

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of photographs	viii
List of contributors	ix
Preface	xi

PART I INTRODUCTION

1 Why value cultural heritage? Richard C. Ready and Ståle Navrud	3
2 Methods for valuing cultural heritage Richard C. Ready and Ståle Navrud	10

PART II CASE STUDIES

3 Social costs and benefits of preserving and restoring the Nidaros Cathedral Ståle Navrud and Jon Strand	31
4 Northumbria: castles, cathedrals and towns Guy Garrod and Kenneth G. Willis	40
5 Valuing the impacts of air pollution on Lincoln Cathedral Marilena Pollicino and David Maddison	53
6 Preserving cultural heritage in transition economies: a contingent valuation study of Bulgarian monasteries Susana Mourato, Andreas Kontoleon and Alexi Danchev	68
7 Valuing different road options for Stonehenge David Maddisson and Susana Mourato	87
8 The contribution of aboriginal rock paintings to wilderness recreation values in North America Peter Boxall, Jeffrey Englin and Wiktor Adamowicz	105
9 Economic benefits to foreigners visiting Morocco accruing from the rehabilitation of the Fes Medina Richard T. Carson, Robert C. Mitchell and Michael B. Conaway	118

10	Component and temporal value reliability in cultural goods: the case of Roman Imperial remains near Naples Patrizia Riganti and Kenneth G. Willis	142
11	Valuing reduced acid deposition injuries to cultural resources: marble monuments in Washington, D.C. Edward R. Morey, Kathleen Greer Rossmann, Lauraine G. Chestnut and Shannon Ragland	159
12	Valuing cultural services in Italian museums: a contingent valuation study Marina Bravi, Riccardo Scarpa and Gemma Sirchia	184
13	A contingent valuation study of the Royal Theatre in Copenhagen Trine Bille	200
14	Individual preferences and allocation mechanisms for a cultural public good: "Napoli Musei Aperti" Walter Santagata and Giovanni Signorello	238
PART III REVIEW OF STUDIES
15	Review of existing studies, their policy use and future research needs David Pearce, Susana Mourato, Ståle Navrud and Richard C. Ready	257
	Index	271