Within Eurostat (Environment Statistics unit), this project was initiated by Jochen Jesinghaus (now at the Commission's Joint Research Centre in Ispra, Italy).

Eurostat wishes to thank the various contributors to this publication, namely:

- the authors who drafted the essays (see Introduction to the contributors and Annex III);
- the specialized institutes which provided assistance to the authors and drafted most of the introductory chapters (see Annex II); and
- the editors, Professor Anil Markandya and Nick Dale (Metroeconomica Ltd, Bath, UK), who edited the whole publication and drafted some parts of it, including some introductory chapters.

Final editing matters have been handled and coordinated by Catherine Kesy (consultant, 2SDA Luxembourg) and Metroeconomica Ltd.
