

Tables

| | | |
|------|--|-----|
| 2.1 | Environmental strategies according to Hart (1995) | 18 |
| 3.1 | The founding of dedicated gene therapy firms | 44 |
| 3.2 | Investment by biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies in dedicated gene therapy firms | 46 |
| 3.3 | Strategies of public gene therapy firms (May 1996) | 51 |
| 3.4 | Strategies of other leading firms (May 1996) | 52 |
| 3.5 | Potential disease targets for gene therapy | 60 |
| 5.1 | Examples of obstacles to the formation of powerful functions | 93 |
| 6.1 | World uses of chlorine | 117 |
| 6.2 | Summary of translations | 129 |
| 7.1 | Diffusion of oxygen delignification, ECF and TCF technology | 150 |
| 13.1 | Sectoral technological taxonomy of services: determinants, directions and measured characteristics | 256 |
| 13.2 | Effects of information technology on business organization, market structure and internationalization in technology-intensive services | 264 |
| 13.3 | International transactions, employment and value added in services in 1970 and 1994 | 272 |