

Tables

---

3.1	Industrial composition of British capital exports to the ten major recipients, 1865–1914	55
3.2	Income per capita in creditor and debtor countries, selected years	56
3.3	Major recipients of British capital exports, 1865–1914	60
3.4	Share of private-source debt flows, by recipient sector	61
3.5	Crisis frequency	62
3.6	Number of crises – distribution by market	63
3.7	Output loss	66
3.8	Output loss, for crises with output losses only	67
3.9	Recovery time	70
3A.1	Crises dates and business cycle turning points: a) 1880–1913; b) 1919–1939; c) 1940–1971; d) 1972–1998	82
4.1	A classification of currency regimes	103
5.1	Comparison of institutional aspects of intervention	129
5.2	Time line of possible patterns of intervention in Day $t$	130
5.3	Intervention by exchange rate brackets	140
5.4	Calculation of realized and unrealized gains	142
5.5	Calculation of interest income	144
5.6	Were interventions successful?	146
5.7	Effectiveness of intervention	148
5.8	Reaction function	151
5.1D	Exchange rate regimes for emerging market economies	156
7.1	Summary statistics for raw data	184
7.2	Summary statistics for deseasonalised data	187
7.3	Determination of order flow	188
7.4	Determination of trades	189
7.5	Determination of spreads	191
7.6	Determination of volatility	193
7.7	Determination of residual volatility	193