The creation of this book would not have been possible without the generous support from ESBRI’s founder, Mr Leif Lundblad. Mr Lundblad is a successful Swedish inventor and entrepreneur who made it possible to start something different in the academic world: ESBRI (Entrepreneurship and Small Business Research Institute). Over ESBRI’s first five years, Mr Lundblad has continued to support ESBRI financially, as well as with his entrepreneurial spirit. As an entrepreneur, he is always moving and pushing his endeavours forward. He also gave ESBRI a special grant to organize the first Movements of Entrepreneurship workshop in June 2001. This book is a result of the first workshop that was held in the beautiful archipelago of Stockholm.

As most people have realized these days, money is not everything; to make something viable there is a need for a good idea. Chris Steyaert created the concept for the Movements of Entrepreneurship workshop. His way of framing and reframing the current thinking is impressive. Chris has carried this project from the inception through to the creation of this book. Daniel Hjorth, another researcher at ESBRI, has been working with this project in all phases of the process. It is a true blessing to have them working with the development of ESBRI and this project in particular. Without their hard and dedicated work this book would never have been written.

In the early stages of the project, Björn Bjerke and Frédéric Delmar contributed as reviewers of the abstracts and also as section facilitators at the workshop itself. At the workshop we also had the good fortune to have two external commentators. Howard Aldrich and Jerry Katz, both at the time of the workshop visiting professors at ESBRI, contributed their experience and good advice. Thank you all.

Last but not least, I would like to thank all the participants at the workshop for their contribution during the workshop and in the following process. We see you all as our collaborators in moving the Movements of Entrepreneurship idea forward.
