Figures

3.1 Nonfarm labor productivity 35
4.1 Real GDP growth 76
4.2 Growth in US real output per hour, nonfarm business sector 76
4.3 Inventory-to-sales ratio: goods sector 77
4.4 Temporary help supply services employment 78
4.5 Asset-backed securities as a percentage of total liabilities 78
4.6 US consumer prices, headline and core measures 83
4.7 US consumer prices: medical care 84
4.8 Domestic US spot oil prices: West Texas Intermediate crude oil 84
4.9 Blue chip forecasts of real GDP relative to actual 88
4.10 Blue chip forecasts of the CPI relative to actual 89
5.1 A star network 99
5.2 A virtual network of complementary goods 99
5.3 Willingness to pay as a function of expected quantity 102
5.4 Diffusion in the presence of network effects 105
5.5 A one-sided bottleneck 110
6.1 Raw measures of price dispersion over time 131
6.2 Measures of price dispersion controlling for differences in shipping 133
6.3 Measures of price dispersion controlling for inventory differences 134
8.1 The effect of electronic diversion on rates 184
8.2 The effect of electronic diversion on volumes 184
8.3 Household mail rates by scenario 191
8.4 Business mail rates by scenario 191
8.5 Effects of diversion on volume 192
8.6 Postal share of electronic mail revenues 192
8.7 Revenues from physical and electronic products 193