

Contributors

---

Antonio Affuso has been an official at the Italian Ministry of Economy and Finance, State General Accounting Department, Departmental Study Service (Se.S.D.) since December 2010. Formerly he was a research fellow in regional economics at the Politecnico of Milan.

Rafael Boix is a lecturer in the Department of Economic Structure, Universitat de València, Spain, and a member of the editorial board of Sviluppo Locale. Formerly he was an external consultant for the OECD and undertook applied research for the Spanish Ministry of Industry, Barcelona province government, and Barcelona City Hall.

Roberto Camagni is Professor in Urban Economics and Economic Assessment of Urban Transformation at the Politecnico of Milan, Italy. He is Past-President of the European Regional Science Association (ERSA), and was Head of the Department for Urban Affairs at the Presidency of the Council of Ministers, Rome, under the first Prodi government, 1997–98. He is the author of many scientific papers and a textbook in urban economics, published in Italian, French and Spanish.

Roberta Capello is Professor in Regional Economics at the Politecnico of Milan, Italy. She is Past-President of the Regional Science Association International (RSAI), editor in chief of the Italian Journal of Regional Science and co-editor of Letters in Spatial and Resource Science (Springer Verlag). She is the author of many scientific papers and a textbook in regional economics, published in Italian and English.

Ugo Fratesi has been Associate Professor in Regional and Urban Economics at the Politecnico of Milan, Italy since January 2011, and a member of the editorial board and book review editor of the Italian Journal of Regional Science since 2008. He is the author of two books and several papers published in refereed journals in the field of regional economics.

Vittorio Galletto is Senior Economist at the Barcelona Institute of Regional and Urban Studies (IERMB), Spain. Formerly he was an associate professor and researcher at the Department of Applied Economics, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona and an employee in a private consulting firm specializing in regional development.

Jacques Robert is the director of TERSYN (Agence Européenne ‘Territoires et Synergies’) in Strasbourg, France. He is an expert in European territorial development issues and advises European as well as national and regional institutions, and is the author of numerous reports and papers.

Joan Trullén is Professor Titular of Regional and Urban Economics (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona), Spain and since 2009, Director of IERMB (Institut d’Estudis Regionals i Metropolitans de Barcelona). He was commissioned by the Mayor of Barcelona for the Barcelona Knowledge Project (1997–2004), and was General Secretary of Industry for the Spanish government (2004–08). He has published in the field of local economic development, urban policies and industrial districts.