This monograph is the culmination of what seems several years of work! I would like to thank Georgina Bensted for her excellent work as my research assistant for this project. Her dedication and hard work were a real inspiration during this endeavour. I am very grateful to my Commercial Law students (especially the classes of 2012 and 2013) who have listened to me lecture (or rant) about this topic over the last two years. I would also like to thank Ben Booth and the staff of Edward Elgar for their continued patience and support (thanks for the extension or two!) during the duration of this project. There are two people in particular who have put up with me during the writing of this monograph – my wife, Ruth and son, Ethan. Without their support and love this monograph would not have been possible. It is to them that I dedicate this book.
