

Contents

List of abbreviations	x
Acknowledgements	xii
Preface	xiii
1. Introduction	1
1. A brief account of a long history	1
2. Environmental governance as contemporary regulation in the 21st Century	6
3. The confusing conceptual labyrinth of environmental governance	8
4. An uncomfortable marriage	11
5. The purpose of this book	16
6. Global environmental governance	17
7. A multi-disciplinary approach	19
8. The use of terms and concepts	20
9. Objectives and chronology	21
10. Some caveats	24
2. The contemporary context of globalization	26
1. Introduction	26
2. Some thoughts on ‘-ationisms’	29
3. Characteristics of globalization	30
4. Defining the ‘global’	34
5. The environment and globalization	35
6. Globalization and governance	39
7. Globalization and the law	46
8. Summary	48
3. Framing governance	51
1. Introduction	51
2. A history of governance	54
3. The many faces of governance	58
4. Mapping the definitional field of governance	69
5. Governance and regulation	82
6. Governance and government	84
7. Governance and bureaucracy	90

8. Governance and management	91
9. Governance and law	95
10. Summary	98
4. Global governance	100
1. Introduction	100
2. International relations and global governance	101
3. State and non-state actors	105
4. Institutionalism and global governance	109
5. Definitional aspects of global governance	116
6. Regimes	126
7. International organizations	135
8. Networks	142
9. Regional governance as an element of global governance	146
10. Summary	148
5. Law and governance	150
1. Introduction	150
2. Law, society and regulation	152
3. A regulative/functionalist reading of law	156
4. Law in a globalized context	158
5. Law and governance	175
6. Summary	183
6. In search of (global) environmental governance	185
1. Introduction	185
2. What is in a word?	186
3. A generic description of environmental governance	193
4. Legal doctrinal aspects of global environmental governance	200
5. Multi-actor aspects of global environmental governance	203
6. Multi-level aspects of global environmental governance	216
7. Summary	223
7. Mapping the definitional field of global environmental governance	225
1. Introduction	225
2. General institutionalist perspectives	227
3. Global environmental governance as a reform strategy	230
4. Global environmental governance as institutional cooperation	232
5. Infra- and supra-national reciprocity	233
6. UN-centred perspectives	237
7. The centrality of law	241
8. The centrality of sustainability	243
9. Global environmental governance as a political process	248

10. Pluralistic perspectives	249
11. Global environmental governance as administration	254
12. Next-generation global environmental governance	260
13. Summary	264
8. Law and global environmental governance	267
1. Introduction	267
2. The environment and definitional complexities	268
3. Towards global environmental governance law	278
4. Summary	292
9. Reconstructing global environmental governance	294
1. Introduction	294
2. Governance	294
3. Governance and law	296
4. Environmental governance	298
5. Global environmental governance	301
6. Conclusion	303
Bibliography	305
Index	335