

Contents

---

About the Authors	vii
Foreword by Meghnad Desai	ix
Preface	xi
General Introduction	1
Part I Failing Capitalism: Baseline Scenarios and Social Reforms
1 Capital Accumulation and the Marxian Reserve Army	29
1.1 Introduction	29
1.2 Marx's General Law of Capitalist Accumulation: The Basic Case	31
1.3 Factory Acts, Hiring and Firing, Migration and a Real Wage Barrier	41
1.4 Social Legislation under Bismarck	45
1.5 Social Legislation in the Context of the Distributive Cycle	48
1.6 Conclusions and Outlook	50
2 Segmented Labour and an Employer of Last Resort	55
2.1 Segmented Labour Markets in Marx's and in our Times	56
2.2 Divided Labour and the Distributive Cycle	62
2.3 Steady State Analysis	65
2.4 Stability of Balanced Growth?	68
2.5 The Debate on an Employer of Last Resort	70
2.6 Active Labour Market Policy and an Employer of Last Resort	75
2.7 Austria, Labour Market Outcomes and Civic Work	82

2.8	Conclusions	89
3	Full Employment Capitalism through an Employer of First Resort	95
3.1	Introduction	95
3.2	A New Economic Structure for Capital Accumulation: Flexicurity Capitalism	96
3.3	Hallmark Denmark: Flexicurity, Denmark-style	99
3.4	Labour Market Institutions under Flexicurity	105
3.5	Flexicurity Growth: Full Capacity Adjustments towards Balanced Reproduction	112
3.6	Company Pension Funds and Sustainability Levels	115
3.7	Pension Funds and Credit-financed Investment	118
3.8	Schumpeterian ‘Creative Destruction’	125
3.9	Conclusions	131
Part II The Forces to Cope With: Effective Demand, Finance and Innovation
4	Demand-Driven Distributive Cycles	137
4.1	Introduction	137
4.2	Cross-over Wage–price Spirals	140
4.3	Nonlinearities in the Wage Demand–pressure Term	143
4.4	The One-dimensional Baseline Dynamics	147
4.5	A Goodwin Cross-dual Extension of the Model	148
4.6	Adding Keynesian Dual Forces	153
4.7	Stability Analysis of the Full 2D System	155
4.8	The US Distributive Cycle after WWII	159
4.9	Conclusions	160
5	Banking, Financial Markets and the Narrow Banking Idea	165
5.1	Introduction	165
5.2	The Theoretical Framework	167
5.3	Feedback Mechanisms and Stability Properties under Broad Banking	176
5.4	Dynamics and Macroeconomic Stability under Narrow Banking	184
5.5	Conclusions	192

6	Schumpeterian Innovations Waves from a Classical Perspective by Reiner Franke	197
6.1	Introduction	197
6.2	Formulation of the Evolutionary Process	200
6.3	Wave Trains	203
6.4	Determinants of Income Distribution	208
6.5	The 'Law of the Falling Rate of Profit'	213
6.6	Conclusions	215
	Appendix	216
Part III Systemic Crises, Policy Responses and the Road to Social Capitalism
7	Capital Accumulation, Environmental Decay and Rehabilitation	223
7.1	Introduction	224
7.2	Unrestricted Accumulation Dynamics and Environmental Decline	230
7.3	Dissent-driven Capitalism and Infrastructure Decay	233
7.4	Flexicurity Capitalism and Environmental Protection	236
7.5	Dynamics: Convergence towards Balanced Reproduction	242
7.6	Company Pension Funds	245
7.7	Conclusions	247
8	Rampant Fiscal Policy, IMF Intervention and Policy Reforms	249
8.1	Introduction	249
8.2	'Kinglike' Government Behaviour	251
8.3	Rampant Financial Conduct: The Greek Case	254
8.4	Rampant Financial Policy in the Context of the Classical Growth Cycle	259
8.5	IMF Intervention in Practice	261
8.6	IMF Intervention in Theory	267
8.7	Social Reform: The Crisis as a Chance for Social Innovations	270
8.8	Conclusions	275
	Appendix: Reintroducing the Drachma. A Greek Tragedy	279

9	Social Capitalism: A New Social Structure for Capital Accumulation	285
9.1	Introduction	285
9.2	The Point of Departure: Unleashed Financialized Capitalism and its Regulation	286
9.3	The Crisis as Chance: Rebuilding Socio-economic Institutions in a Democratic Society	294
9.4	Continental Welfare and UK Workfare: Too One-sided, too Neoliberal?	298
9.5	The ‘Good’?: Flexicurity Capitalism	301
9.6	A New Social Structure for Capital Accumulation: Social Capitalism	307
9.7	Greece: A Mediterranean Roadmap towards Social Capitalism?	324
9.8	Conclusions and Outlook	339
	References	345
	Notations	365
	Author Index	367
	Subject Index	371