

Tables

---

|      |  |     |
|------|--|-----|
| 1.1  | Case study matrix  | 15  |
| 1.2  | Main concepts  | 18  |
| 2.1  | Country indicators   | 24  |
| 3.1  | Selected statistics on health expenditures and prevalence of diabetes in case study countries                                  | 69  |
| 3.2  | Percentage of uninsured by race/ethnicity in the United States (persons under 65 years old) for 2001–11                        | 80  |
| 4.1  | Evolution of maize production in Argentina, selected years   | 110 |
| 5.1  | Summary of the major mobile phone service providers by country (2012)  | 128 |
| 5.2  | Summary of mobile phone subscription levels by country (2011)  | 136 |
| 5.3  | Summary of proportion of pre-paid users by country (2011 or most recent year where data was available)                         | 141 |
| 7.1  | Technological projects, actors, and public interventions   | 196 |
| 8.1  | Summary of findings (Argentina)  | 207 |
| 9.1  | Summary of the technological projects and their distributional consequences in Canada  | 220 |
| 10.1 | Summary of the patterns between the technologies and structural, distributional and representational inequalities (Costa Rica) | 233 |
| 11.1 | Summary of findings from the technology/country case studies (Jamaica)   | 240 |
| 13.1 | Summary of the technological projects and their distributional consequences in Malta   | 266 |
| 14.1 | Assets, costs, benefits and employment (Mozambique)  | 290 |
| 14.2 | Summary of the relation of the four studies technologies with (in)equality (Mozambique)  | 292 |
| 14.3 | The components of the science and technology innovation system of Mozambique crossed with the four researched technologies     | 296 |
| 14.4 | Alternative policies (Mozambique)  | 299 |