

Contents

---

List of contributors	vii
PART I CROSSING LEGAL BOUNDARIES IN CONCEPTUAL CATEGORIES
1 Countering terrorism and crossing legal boundaries Aniceto Masferrer and Clive Walker	3
2 What does 'terrorism' mean? Mariona Llobet Anglí	17
3 The fragility of fundamental rights in the origins of modern constitutionalism: its negative impact in protecting human rights in the 'war on terror' era Aniceto Masferrer	37
4 Myths and misunderstandings about security, rights and liberty in the United Kingdom Jon Moran	61
PART II CROSSING LEGAL BOUNDARIES FROM LIBERTY TO CRIME
5 Terrorism as a criminal offence Manuel Cancio Meliá and Anneke Petzsche	87
6 Freedom of thought or 'thought-crimes'? Counter-terrorism and freedom of expression Francesca Galli	106
7 Terrorism and crimes against humanity: interferences and differences at the international level and their projection upon Spanish domestic law Jon-Mirena Landa Gorostiza	128
8 Safety interviews, adverse inferences and the relationship between terrorism and ordinary criminal law Shlomit Wallerstein	149

PART III    CROSSING LEGAL BOUNDARIES IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS

- 9    Critical perspectives on the evaluation of counter-terrorism strategies: counting costs of the ‘war on terror’ in Australia                      169
Susan Donkin and Simon Bronitt
- 10   The right of access to a lawyer in terrorist cases                                      189
Brice Dickson
- 11   Erasing the distinction between anti-terrorist and criminal justice measures in Ireland: past and present                      212
Dermot PJ Walsh

PART IV    CROSSING LEGAL BOUNDARIES IN COUNTER-TERRORISM ORGANISATIONS

- 12   Cross-border law enforcement in the area of counter-terrorism: maintaining human rights in transnational policing                      241
Saskia Hufnagel
- 13   Detention in extremis: transferring lessons from counter-terrorism policing to military detentions                      265
Clive Walker
- 14   The amplification and melding of counter-terrorism agencies: from security services to police and back again                      293
Clive Walker and Andrew Staniforth

Select bibliography    320

Index    329