
Acknowledgements

As I was re-reading the acknowledgements from my previous handbook, I realized that most of them still stand. How fortunate I am to be surrounded by so many bright minds and generous hearts. Once again, it is my privilege and joy to express my gratitude to those who join me on this exhilarating journey of learning and discovery:

First of all, I would like to thank all contributing authors for their enthusiastic support of this project and their dedication to make each single chapter its utmost best. My heartfelt thanks go to Francine Sullivan, Publisher, who showed the same unwavering belief in this handbook as she did in the first one, and to all her colleagues at Edward Elgar who provided assistance. All my love goes to my husband Carl who has been the pillar of my life and who provided another beautiful piece of his art for the cover of this book.
