Acknowledgments

Some parts of this book draw on our past work published in the following articles:

John K. Wilson and Richard Pomfret (2009) 'Government Subsidies for Professional Team Sports in Australia', Australian Economic Review 42(3), 264–75.

Richard Pomfret and John K. Wilson (2011) 'The Peculiar Economics of Public Policy towards Sport', Agenda 18(1), 85–98.

We are grateful to the publishers for permission to use this material.

For research assistance and other contributions to the chapters on mega-events, we are grateful to Bernhard Lobmayr. At various stages in our work on sports economics, the authors have benefited from grants from the University of Adelaide and the University of South Australia. Drafts of the book were read by John Siegfried, Ross Booth and Jeff Borland, who provided many detailed and helpful comments. We are grateful to George Bredon for assistance with the preparation of the index and for comments on the manuscript. Last but not least, thanks to Bob Pickens, our Desk Editor at Elgar, for his enthusiastic contribution in preparing the manuscript for publication.
