Figures

1.1 An integrated approach to active inclusion 4
2.1 Activation practices in a multilevel, multi-stakeholder and multidimensional environment 20
4.1 Level of unemployment and long-term unemployment in Poland and the EU-15 (percentage of active population) 74
4.2 Institutional chart of the Polish employment service system 76
4.3 Institutional chart of the Polish social assistance system 77
5.1 UK unemployment rates and long-term unemployment rates 95
6.1 Unemployment rate (per cent) in Milan, Rome, Naples and Italy (2008–13) 122
7.1 Actor cartography of the activation field in France 144
7.2 Standardization of labour market integration services 155
8.1 Long-term unemployment in Germany and the European Union (unemployed longer than 12 months, as percentage of total unemployment) 165
8.2 Access to ALMP and §16a-measures for MIS beneficiaries in 2013 166
10.1 Activation and the horizontal integration of policy fields 225
10.2 Participation in lifelong learning (percentage of working-age population) 227
11.1 Local coordination of policy areas, stakeholders and administrative levels in the delivery of activation (mean scores) 243
11.2 Coordination of employment services with social assistance, child care and health services 246
11.3 Coordination of local employment services with the national and regional level 249
11.4 Coordination of local employment services with services provided by private and third-sector actors 252