Index

achievement/risk taking 34–6 administrative elites see top executives agencification
  in Austria 42–5
  as core component of NPM 98, 123, 145, 188, 208, 269
in Denmark 122–4, 127
in Estonia 88–9
Europe comparison 262, 264
in Finland 130–132
in France 54–6, 277
in Germany 67
in Hungary 98–100
in Ireland 145
in Italy 188–9
in Lithuania 107–9
in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 153
in Portugal 197–8
as reform trend across policy areas 267–70
in Spain 208–10
in Sweden 164–5, 170
in the UK 175–6
Anglo-Saxon countries
  as open to NPM reforms 29, 259, 261 tradition characterized by 260–261 view of public service motivation 32
see also UK
Austria
  coordination 251–3
  decentralization
    activities 42
    effects of NPM 48
    of financial and staffing decisions 46 governance between strategy and trust 48–9 hybrid public management 47–8
  impact of fiscal crisis
  consolidation measures 236
  cutback strategies 233, 242
  personal attitudes 35–6
  political hierarchy 250
  preference for hierarchical values 279
  public administration as legalistic culture 41–2, 274–5
    life-long tenure 42
  public administration reforms
    agencification 42–3, 45
    importance of trends at policy field level 44 low autonomy and low managerialism 46–7
  summary 262–3
  transparency and open government 264 Wirkungsvorientierung 43, 48–9
  public management performance 265–6 result-orientation 49–50 role perceptions/identities 27, 47–8
  use of management tools 46–9, 57, 224, 226
values
  public services 30
  work 33
autonomy
  in Austria 43, 47, 49
  balance with central control 247
in Finland 129
in France 60
in Germany 64, 66
in Hungary 99
in Ireland 144
in Lithuania 111, 113
in Norway 152, 154, 157, 159
in Portugal 201
in Spain 211
in Sweden 170, 225, 277
bureaucracy effectiveness as lead value for 29 management techniques' compatibility 102 reduction
in Austria 43–4
in Denmark 122
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262
in Finland 131–3
in France 56
in Germany 67
in Hungary 99–100, 102–3
in Ireland 145
in Italy 189, 191
in Lithuania 107–9, 112–13
in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 153–4, 158–9
in Portugal 195–8, 203
as reform trend across policy areas 268–9
in Spain 209, 214
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175, 180
Weberian
hierarchy based on 29
importance of 2, 256

Central and Eastern European (CEE) countries borrowing from other traditions 261 performance management 105–6
role perceptions 27–8
value trade-offs 29–31
work values 32
see also Estonia; Hungary; Lithuania; Serbia citizen orientation vs. customer focus 30–31 citizen participation
in Austria 43–4
in Denmark 122
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262
in Finland 132
in France 56, 60
in Germany 67
in Hungary 99–100, 103
in Ireland 145
in Italy 189, 191
in Lithuania 108, 112
in the Netherlands 75
in Norway 153, 158
as NPG reform 266, 269
in Portugal 197
as reform trend across policy areas 267–9
in Spain 209, 213–14
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175–6, 180
civil servants see top executives COBRA survey 13–15
COCOPS research project advantages of survey 23, 220, 271 aims of 2, 4–5, 7, 14
equivalence, problem of 15–17 funded by European Commission 7 and heterogeneity 275–8 institutions involved in 7–8 organisation of 18–21 organisational and demographic characteristics of sample 21–2 policy area performance 269–70 public administration reform trends across Europe 261–5 public management performance across Europe 265–6 and reform paradigms 274–5 related projects 7 response rates, by country 21 study of fiscal consolidation following economic crisis 232, 235–42 top executives
aims of 29–31
drivers of 31–4
patterns found 36–7
perceptions of coordination in central government 245–57 personal attitudes of 34–6
role perceptions 26–8
studying 14–15
value of perceptions and attitudes of 17–18 use for future public administration research 278–80
use of management tools 220–222, 228
see also individual countries collaboration and cooperation Index

in Austria 44
within coordination reforms 248, 251, 253
in Denmark 122–3
in Estonia 87–9
Europe comparison 262–3
in Finland 131–3
in France 55–6
in Germany 66–7
in Hungary 99
impact of fiscal crisis on 240
in Ireland 145–6
in Italy 189
in Lithuania 107–8
in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 153
as NPG reform 260, 266, 270, 274
in Portugal 196–7
as reform trend across policy areas 267–70
in Spain 209–10
in Sweden 164–5, 167, 169–70
in the UK 175–6
contracting out
in Austria 43–4
as core component of NPM 98, 123, 176, 188, 208, 275
in Denmark 122–3, 127
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262, 264
in Finland 131–3
in France 55–6, 60
in Germany 67
in Hungary 98–100
in Ireland 145
in Italy 188–9
in Lithuania 108
in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 153–4
in Portugal 195, 197
as reform trend across policy areas 268–70
in Spain 208–9
in Sweden 163–4
in UK 174–6, 181
cooperation see collaboration and cooperation Coordinating for Cohesion in the Public Sector of the Future see COCOPS research project

coordination
analytical framework 245–7 implications 254, 256–7 as ‘philosopher’s stone’ for government 244 quality 250–252 reforms, hierarchy and networks 248–50 relations between culture, mechanisms and quality 252–5 and role identification 248 types of 246–7
vertical and horizontal dimensions 244–5 customer focus vs. citizen orientation 30–31
Europe comparison 262–3
as reform trend across policy areas 267–9
in the UK 179
customers, treating service users as
in Austria 44
in Denmark 122
in Estonia 88
in Finland 131–2
in France 56
in Germany 67
in Hungary 99
in Ireland 145
in Italy 189
in Lithuania 108–9
in the Netherlands 75
in Norway 153–4
in Portugal 197–8
in Spain 209
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175

Denmark
coordination 248, 251–3
decentralization of staffing and financial decisions 126 development towards Neo-Weberian state 119–20, 127
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 77–8, 233
performance information 239
reforms 124

Gerhard Hammerschmid, Steven Van de Walle, Rhys Andrews and Philippe Bezes - 9781783475407 Downloaded from Elgar Online at 12/16/2018 09:43:54PM via free access network arrangements 250
personal attitudes 35
public administration reforms
commitment to 225–6
modernized and dynamic 126–8 pursuance of 120–121 and rising importance of Digital Era Governance 121–4 Scandinavian tradition 261
summary 262, 264
public management performance 265–6
role perceptions 27
use of management tools 124–6, 224–5, 228 value for money strategy 121–2
values
public service 30–31
work 33
Digital Era Governance (DEG) combination with concept of Neo-Weberian State 119–20 impact on public organizations in Denmark 127–8 rising importance of 122–3 digital government see e-government downsizing back office functions, through Europe 235, 237, 240
in Denmark 122–3
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262–4
in Finland 131–2
in France 55–7, 60–61
in Germany 65, 67, 70
in Hungary 98–100
importance of 43–4
in Ireland 144–6, 149
in Italy 188–9
in Lithuania 107–9
in the Netherlands 73–5
in Norway 151, 153–4
as NPM trend 270, 275–6
in Portugal 197
as reform trend across policy areas 267–70
in Spain 209
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175–6, 178
e-government
in Austria 44
in Denmark 120–122, 126–8
in Estonia 87–9
Europe comparison 262–3
in Finland 131–3
in France 55–6, 59
in Germany 65–7
in Hungary 99
in Ireland 145
in Italy 188–9
in Lithuania 107–8
in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 153–4
as NPG reform 274
in Portugal 196–7, 202
as reform trend across policy areas 268–9
in Spain 208–9
in Sweden 164–7
in the UK 175
trepreneurial potential 34–7 equivalence population 16–17
procedural/measurement 16 terminology and labels 15–16 Estonia
coordination 248, 252–3
decentralization of staffing and financial decisions 91–2
decentralized
human resource management 92 implementation of reforms 94
public administration 86
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 233
on reforms 87
network arrangements 250
personal attitudes 35
private sector experience 22
public administration reforms
country differences 274 implementation and main actors 90–91 multiple initiatives 87–90 outcomes and implications 93–4
summary 262–4
three waves of 85–7
Index

public management performance 265–6
role identification 248
perceptions 27
use of management tools 85, 91–3, 224, 227
values
public service 30–31
work 32–3
EUPAN (European Public Administration Network) 4, 109, 202, 220 European Administrative Space 5, 12 extrinsic motivation 31–3, 37 female response rates 21
Finland
coordination 248, 252–3
decentralization of staffing and financial decisions 134–6
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 233
performance information 239
network arrangements 250
personal attitudes 35
public administration reforms active, top-down policies 131–4 commitment to NPM 29, 225 governmental steering 129–30
outcomes and implications 137–8
summary 262–4
role perceptions 27
state administration 130–131
use of management tools 131–2, 134–6, 224–5
values
public service 30
work 33
fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 234–7
cutback strategies 232–4, 241–2 diversity of government responses 231–2, 241 effects on public management and decision-making 237–40 extent of, Europe-wide 231
in Ireland
extent of, and response to 140 influence of, and path dependence 144, 241 reforms in time of crisis 141–4, 148–9 flexible employment
as core component of NPM 176, 208
in Denmark 122
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262
in Finland 131–3
in France 55–6
in Germany 67
in Hungary 99–100
in Ireland 145
in Italy 188–9
in Lithuania 108
in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 44, 153–4
in Portugal 197
in Spain 208–9
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175–6
France
coordination 248–9, 251–3
decentralization
of financial decisions 58–9
of staffing decisions 58 gradual modes of change 52–3, 61
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 55, 233–4
negative growth 231
performance information 239
legalistic and traditional public administrations 274 LOLF (Loi organique relative aux lois de finances) 54–5, 57 Napoleonic tradition 53, 260, 264
personal attitudes 35
political-administrative institutions, multiple nexus of 53
political hierarchy 250
preference for hierarchical values 30, 249
private sector experience 22
public administration reforms and cost-cutting 77
Public administration reforms in Europe downsizing, mergers, transparency and citizen participation 55–7, 61, 264 importance of 54, 56, 61, 263–4, 271 mixed perceptions of effects of 59–60 openness to NPM 29, 54, 61

scale of activity 277 strong, top-down implementation of 61, 134
summary 262–3
trajectory of 54–5
use of management tools 57–9, 224

public management performance 265–6, 271
RGPP (Révision Générale des Politiques Publiques) 54–6, 59
role perceptions 27
similarities to Germany 226
values
public services 30
work 33

Germany
administrative system 64–6, 277 coordination quality 251–3 decentralization of staffing and financial decisions 69
as decentralized system 64, 66
impact of fiscal crisis
centralisation of organisation-level decision-making 239
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 233–4, 242
negative growth 231
as latecomer to public management reform 63
network arrangements 250
organicist tradition 260
personal attitudes 35–6
preference for hierarchical values 279
private sector experience 22
public management performance 265
reforms
openness to NPM 29
outcomes and implications 70–71 perceived as partial and insufficient 66–8 priorities in line with European developments 66
summary 262, 264
role perceptions 27
similarities to France 226
use of management tools 57, 65, 68–70, 224–7
values
public service 30
work 33
governance
e-governance 87, 89, 91, 269 Finland’s system of 130 hierarchical vs. market models 29–31 Hungary’s system of 97–8 model for public service reform 143 moving towards networked 74–8 multilevel, within Germany 277 network-based 256, 274
Proporz system 42, 48
between strategy and trust 48–9 Sweden’s system of 163
see also Digital Era Governance hierarchical arrangements 246, 249–50, 254, 256–7 hierarchical values 29–31, 36–7, 279 Hungary

coordination 248–9
decentralization
of decision responsibilities 102 of staffing and financial decisions 100–101 FIDESZ 96, 98, 103–4
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 233
negative growth 231
as Neo-Weberian state 98
network arrangements 250–253
personal attitudes 35–6
public administration reforms
commitment to 227
country differences 274
outcomes and implications 102–4 role of politics in 276
summary 262–4
top-down implementation of 134 trends and dynamics 98–100
public management performance 265
role perceptions 27
unique state structure 96–8
use of management tools 100–102, 224
values
  public service 30–31
  work 32–3
internal locus of control 34–5 interpersonal trust 35–6 intrinsic motivation 31–3, 37
Ireland
  coordination 249–53
  decentralized public collective bargaining system 187
  impact of fiscal crisis
    conflicts between organisational units 240
    consolidation measures 236
    cutback strategies 233–4
    negative growth 231
    performance information 239 receipt of financial assistance 241
    personal attitudes 35–6
    politico-administrative context 185–6, 192
  public administration reforms
    commitment to 226
    and diffusion of managerial tools 187–92 Napoleonic tradition 260
    openness to NPM 29, 61
    summary 262
  public management performance 265
  role perceptions 27–8
  stronghold of internal administrative hierarchy 249
  use of management tools 185, 188–90, 192, 224, 226–8
  values
    public service 30
    work 33
  joined-up government 28, 73, 94, 244

legalistic culture/tradition
  in Austria 41–2, 50, 274–5
  in France 53, 274
  in Germany 64–6, 274–5
  in Hungary 100, 274
  in Spain 206, 274
  life-long tenure 42, 64
Lithuania
  coordination 248–53
  decentralized public collective bargaining system 187
  impact of fiscal crisis
    conflicts between organisational units 240
    consolidation measures 236
    cutback strategies 233
    negative growth 231
    performance information 239
    receipt of financial assistance 241
    personal attitudes 35–6
    politico-administrative context 185–6, 192
  public administration reforms
    commitment to 226
    and diffusion of managerial tools 187–92 Napoleonic tradition 260
    openness to NPM 29, 61
    summary 262
  public management performance 265
  role perceptions 27–8
  stronghold of internal administrative hierarchy 249
  use of management tools 185, 188–90, 192, 224, 226–8
  values
    public service 30
    work 33
  joined-up government 28, 73, 94, 244
public administration reforms
outcomes and implications 112–14
summary 262–4
and their perception 107–8 public administration system 106–7
public management performance 265–6
role perceptions 27
use of management tools 105–6, 109–14, 224, 227
values
public service 30–31
work 32–3
management tools, use of assessing 220–221
in Austria 46–9, 57, 224, 226
avenues for future research 279–80
in Denmark 124–6, 224–5, 228
in Estonia 85, 91–3, 224, 227
in Finland 131–2, 134–6, 224–5
in France 57–9, 224
in Germany 57, 68–70, 224–7
in Hungary 100–102, 224
in Ireland 146–8, 224–5
in Italy 185, 188–90, 192, 224, 226–8
limited, for market-type mechanisms 228
in Lithuania 105–6, 109–14, 224, 227
in Neo-Weberian model 185
in the Netherlands 75, 78–81, 224–5
in Norway 155–7, 159–60, 224–5 organisational variations in 222–4 performance-based approach 124–6
in Portugal 200–201, 203, 224, 227 and quality of coordination within government 279
in Spain 57, 210–212, 224, 226–8
in Sweden 167–70, 224–5, 277 transformation of traditional tools 219
in the UK 79, 148, 177–81, 224 variations between countries 224–5, 228, 274–5 continental 226 moderniser 225–6
southern 226–7 transition 227
managerialism
in Austria 46–7
institutionalization of, in Lithuania 109–12
in Italy 185, 187–92
in the Netherlands 74–8, 81
in Norway 151–2, 154–9
Orbán-era, in Hungary 100–102
in Portugal 194–6, 200–201
in Spain 210–212
in Sweden 162–4, 167–9
tools originating in 228
in the UK 177–9
mergers
in Austria 43–4
in Denmark 122
in Estonia 87–90
Europe comparison 262
in Finland 131–2
in France 55–7, 60–61, 277
in Germany 66–7
in Hungary 99–100
in Ireland 145
in Italy 189
in Lithuania 108
in the Netherlands 75
in Norway 153–4
as NPM reform 270
in Portugal 197–8
as reform trend across policy areas 268–70
in Spain 209
in Sweden 164–5
in the UK 175
Napoleonic countries
as more resistant to public management reform 264, 271 political and administrative hierarchy 250, 256
possible impact of NPG reforms 261 public administration associated with 259, 261
public management performance 265–6, 271
tradition characterized by 260
see also France; Italy; Portugal;
Spain
Neo-Weberianism
as blend of legalistic, Weberian culture with managerial elements 50
Index

Denmark’s development of 119–21, 127–8 features of 98, 177
in France 52
in Hungary 98
importance in Austria 45, 50
in Ireland 146, 149
in Italy 185, 192
in Norway 159
as reform paradigm 3, 274–5

Netherlands
agencification 54
coordination 248–53
decentralization
of executive functions of ministries 74
of financial decisions 79
of staffing decisions 79–80 decentralized state structure 6, 73–4, 81
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 237
cutback strategies 233–4, 242
performance information 239
non-profit work experience 22
organicist tradition 260
personal attitudes 35–6
public management performance 265–6 quangos (ZBOs) 73–4
reforms
committal to NPM 225
country differences 29–30, 274
demanding 77
frequent, intensive and incremental 73–4
outcomes and implications 80–81
public administration 74–8
summary 262–4
role identification 248
perceptions 27
use of management tools 75, 78–81, 224–5
values
public service 30
work 33

New Public Governance (NPG)
features of 270
in Germany 70–71
in Ireland 149
in Napoleonic, organicist and Anglo-Saxon countries 261
as reform paradigm 3, 259–60, 274–5 reforms across policy areas 266, 269, 271, 279–80

New Public Management (NPM)
in Austria 42, 45, 48, 50
characterized by disaggregation of policymaking from management 244 conditions for diffusion of practices associated with 276 core components of 98, 123, 145, 176, 188, 208
in Denmark 120–121, 123, 126–7
in Estonia 89, 93–4, 227
in France 54, 56
in Germany 64–6, 70–71
in Hungary 98, 227
in Ireland 144–5
in Italy 188, 191
as major reform trend in Western administration 240 management instruments 219, 225, 228
in the Netherlands 225
in Norway 156–7, 159
in Sweden 169–70, 225
in the UK 177–81, 225
managerialist doctrine of 144 as part of coordination landscape of Europe 257 and quality and efficiency 31 as reform paradigm 2–3, 259–60, 269, 274–5
reforms
assessing impact of 7, 151, 250
avenues for future research 278–80 convergence and divergence in 5–6 countries open to 29
in Lithuania 105–8, 111
in Norway 152, 154, 159–60, 225
and performance 266–7 pioneered in the UK 175 by policy area 269–71
in Portugal 195–8, 203
in Sweden 163–4, 167

Gerhard Hammerschmid, Steven Van de Walle, Rhys Andrews and Philippe Bezes - 9781783475407
Downloaded from Elgar Online at 12/16/2018 09:43:54PM via free access Public administration reforms in Europe uptake by Napoleonic, organicist and Anglo-Saxon countries 261 and sigma-type values 29

in Spain 207–8
in Sweden 163, 165–6
treatment of citizens 207
in the UK 174, 176, 228
use of concept in survey 16 new services
in Austria 44
in Denmark 122
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262, 264
in Finland 131–2
in France 55–6, 60
in Germany 67
in Hungary 99–100
in Ireland 145
in Italy 189
in Lithuania 108–9
in the Netherlands 75
in Norway 153
in Portugal 197
as reform trend across policy areas 268
in Spain 209
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175–6
Norway
collaborative political-administrative relations 277
coordination 249–53
decentralization
of staffing and financial decisions 156–7
as state combining political and administrative 152
impact of fiscal crisis
centralisation of organisation-level decision-making 239
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 77, 233
negative growth 231
power of ministry of finance 239 implementation of NPM 155–7, 225
personal attitudes 35–6
private sector experience 22
public administration reforms
country differences 274
outcomes and implications 157–60 as reluctant to reform 151–3 retaining effective public sector 154 Scandinavian tradition 261 successful, substantive yet partial 155
summary 262, 264
well-off, transparent and digitalized 153–4
public management performance 265–6
role perceptions 27
use of management tools 155–7, 159–60, 224–5
values
public service 30
work 33
NPG see New Public Governance
NPM see New Public Management

Oblimin rotation 31–2, 34
OECD (Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development) approach to studying public administration reforms 17 on Danish economy 120 on expenditure reductions 237 Finnish reforms following those of 134 on Germany 63
Government at a Glance 4, 13, 80 promotion of management tools 220, 222 public governance review of Estonia 87–90, 92–3, 136 of Finland 137–8 report on Ireland 141–2 on revenue enhancing measures 234–5 share of female respondents 21 on staff layoffs 236 on use of performance-related pay in the Netherlands 79 open government see transparency and open government Orbán administration 96–8, 100–102, 104 organicist countries 260–261 see also Germany; the Netherlands outcome orientation see Wirkungsorientierung outcomes focus see results focus parochialism 13 partnerships
  in Austria 44
  in Denmark 122
  in Estonia 88–9, 93
  Europe comparison 262
  in Finland 131–3
  in France 56
  in Germany 67
  in Hungary 99–100
  in Ireland 145
  in Italy 189
  in Lithuania 108–9
  in the Netherlands 75
  in Norway 153
  in Portugal 195–8
  as reform trend across policy areas 268–9
  in Spain 209
  in Sweden 164
  in the UK 175–6
path dependence 144
performance management
  in Austria 46–7
  in Denmark 120, 125–6
  across Europe 265–6
  in Finland 129, 134–8
  in France 57–8, 61
  in Germany 64, 70
  in Italy 187
  in Lithuania 105–8, 111–14, 227
  in Norway 152, 157
  in Sweden 162, 166–70
personal attitudes 34–6
Portugal
  coordination 248–53
  decentralization
    of staffing and financial decisions 200–201 territorial 194
impact of fiscal crisis
  bail-out 231
  consolidation measures 236–7
  cutback strategies 77, 233–4, 276
  power of ministry of finance 239
  power of politicians 239
personal attitudes 35–6
public administration reforms
  commitment to 226, 228
  Napoleonic tradition and managerialist agenda 194–6
  outcomes and implications 201–3
  summary 262–3
  top-down, cost-cutting oriented, fairly unsuccessful 198–200, 203
  trends 196–8
public management performance 265–6
role identification 248
  perceptions 27
stronghold of internal administrative hierarchy 249
use of management tools 200–201, 203, 224, 227
values
  public service 30
  work 33
post-NPM reforms argument on agency performance 112 components of 151, 176, 240, 245, 257
    in Estonia 94
    in Germany 66
    in Lithuania 107, 109
  main focus of 244–5
    in Norway 151, 159
  as part of coordination landscape of Europe 257
  second and third generation 3 see also New Public Governance privatization
  in Austria 44
  as core component of NPM 123, 145, 176, 188, 208
    in Denmark 120, 122–3, 127
    in Estonia 86, 88, 90
  Europe comparison 262–4
    in France 55–6
    in Germany 65, 67
    in Hungary 98–100
    in Ireland 145
    in Italy 188–9
    in Lithuania 108
Public administration reforms in Europe

in the Netherlands 75–6
in Norway 151–4, 159
in Portugal 195–8
as reform trend across policy areas 268–70
in Spain 206–10
in Sweden 164, 167
in the UK 175–6, 178, 181
Proporz system 42, 48
public administration (PA) comparative research in 12–14 perspectives for future 278–80 in coordination landscape of Europe 257 development from unitary 259–60 moving forward 23
in Napoleonic countries 259, 261
public administration reforms
avenues for future research 278–80
convergence and divergence in European 5–6, 266–71, 273, 275, 278–9 evaluation limitations 4–5 heterogeneity among 275–8 kaleidoscope of 273
and outcomes 259–60, 270–271 paradigms 2–3, 259–60, 269, 274–5
and performance
across Europe 260–261
across policy areas 266–7
performance management 265–6
policy area performance 269–70
trends
across Europe 261–5
across policy areas 267–9
use of top executives in studies 1 public management effects of fiscal crisis on patterns of 237–40
hybrid 47–8, 50
performance 265–6
reforms
in Denmark 120–121
and performance across policy areas 266–7 trends across policy areas 267–9 research project see COCOPS research project tools 219–21, 227
public sector executives see top executives public service motivation (PSM) 13, 31–3 public services, priorities for 29–31 results focus
in Austria 43–5
in Denmark 119, 122, 125
in Estonia 88
Europe comparison 262–4, 275
in Finland 131–3
in France 55–6
in Germany 67
in Hungary 98–100
in Ireland 145
in Italy 189
in Lithuania 107–8
in the Netherlands 75
in Norway 153, 157
as NPM reform 56, 107, 275
in Portugal 196–8, 200–201, 203
as reform trend across policy areas 267–70
in Spain 209
in Sweden 164
in the UK 175–6
role perceptions/identities 26–8, 47–8, 246
Sarkozy, President 54–7, 61 Scandinavian countries as affected by managerial reforms 225 Estonia’s position 86
female response rates 21
internal coordination 252 interpersonal trust 36
NPM adopted by 259–60
pattern of divergence 277 public administration performance 113, 265–6, 271 tradition characterized by 261
view of public service motivation 32
work values 33
see also Denmark; Finland; Norway; Sweden Schwartz’ value circle 34–5
Index 293

Serbia
coordination and political coherence 251–3
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 237
cutback strategies 233
as latecomer to public management reforms 227
network arrangements 250
personal attitudes 35
political hierarchy 250
public administration reforms 262, 264
public management performance 265 response rates to COCOPS research project 21
role perceptions 27
stronghold of internal administrative hierarchy 249
use of management tools 224, 227
values
public service 30
work 32–3
Spain
coordination 248–53
decentralization
management tool 210
of staffing and financial decisions 211–12
as decentralized state 206
impact of fiscal crisis
consolidation measures 236–7
cutback strategies 77, 233–4, 276
negative growth 231
power of politicians 239 pursuit of radical austerity 205 receipt of financial assistance 241
personal attitudes 35–6
politico-administrative context 206–7, 274
public administration reforms little visible change 207–9
outcomes and implications 212–15
slow pace of 205
summary 262–3
public management performance 265–6
role perceptions 27
stronghold of internal administrative hierarchy 249

Sweden administrative model 162–3
coordination 248–53
decentralization of staffing and financial decisions 168
decentralized
human resource management 225
unitary parliamentary state 162, 167
impact of fiscal crisis
centralisation of decision-making 239
centralisation of organisation-level decision-making 239
consolidation measures 236
cutback strategies 233
performance information and budgetary units 239 power of ministry of finance 239
managerialism 162–4, 167–9
personal attitudes 35
private sector experience 22
public administration reforms
commitment to 226, 277
as follower of NPM reforms 163
outcomes and implications 169–70
summary 262, 264
trends 164–7
public management performance 265–6
role identification 248
perceptions 27
use of management tools 167–70, 224–5, 277
values
public service 30
work 33
top executives
aims for public services 29–31 patterns found 36–7
personal attitudes 34–6
role perceptions 26–8
sample characteristics education 21–2 employment 22
   policy fields 22 response rates 21 work place longevity 22 studying 14–15
   problem of equivalence 15–17 value of perceptions and attitudes 17–18
   work values 31–4
transparency and open government
   in Austria 44
   in Denmark 122–3
   in Estonia 86–8
   Europe comparison 262–4
   in Finland 131–3
   in France 56
   in Germany 66–7, 70
   in Hungary 99–100, 103
   in Ireland 145, 148
   in Italy 187–9, 191
   in Lithuania 107–8, 112
   in the Netherlands 75, 81
   in Norway 153–4, 158–9
   as NPG reform 260, 274, 279
   in Portugal 196–8
   as reform trend across policy areas 269–70
   in Spain 209–10, 213–14
   in Sweden 164–6, 169
   in the UK 175–6, 180

UK (United Kingdom)
   coordination 28, 249–53
   decentralization of staffing and financial decisions 178–9
   impact of fiscal crisis
   consolidation measures 236–7
   cutback strategies 233–4
   negative growth 231
   performance information 239 ‘Next Steps’ model 120, 188
   personal attitudes 35
   private sector experience 22
   public management performance 265–6
   public services in 173–4
reforms
   Anglo-Saxon tradition 260–261
   commitment to 226, 264
   country differences 274
   outcomes and implications 179–81
   perceptions of 174–7 strong, top-down implementation of 134 retrenchment trend 206
   role perceptions 27
   use of management tools 79, 148, 177–81, 224
   values
   public service 30–31
   work 32–3
values
   hierarchical 29–31, 36–7, 279 market 29–31, 36, 279 personal 34–6
   Schwartz’ value circle 34–5
   value trade-offs 29–31
   work 31–4
Weberianism 2–3, 41, 70–71, 192, 256, 274–5 see also public administration Wirkungsorientierung (outcome orientation) 43, 48–9
work values 31–4
World Bank’s Worldwide Governance Indicators 4, 126, 169