Figures

2.1  R&D expenditures as share of GDP, selected countries, 1990–2012
3.1  Classification of incoming and outgoing patent application streams to and from a country
3.2  Yearly patent applications to and from China and India and normalized worldwide total
4.1  Changes in exports of DVD players from China to Europe
4.2  Comparison of overseas telecom companies’ competitive strength with local companies in China
6.1  Dynamics of the energy company accessing innovation space
7.1  Visual illustration of global innovation spaces
8.1  Model of managing a knowledge-intensive entrepreneurial venture
10.1  Pharmaceutical industry value chain
12.1  A timeline of ownership changes in VCC since the 1990s
12.2  A timeline of Ericsson and Huawei in Sweden
12.3  Microwave technologies in the Gothenburg region
12.4  Chip and mobile platform technologies in the Lund region
13.1  FDI net inflows in million US$ in India
13.2  FDI in R&D of affiliates of US MNCs in India in million US$
14.1  Problem-framing and solving in turnkey production networks
14.2  Problem-framing in standalone and integrated innovation outsourcing
17.1  Interactions creating the innovation space, as the firm spans between industry and region/country
17.2  Asia as innovation spaces rich in (potential) opportunities
17.3  Representational visualization of how the firm may perceive innovation spaces
18.1  Creation of innovation spaces within Asian firms and countries, from Asia to the world, and from the world to Asia