Contributors

Rocky Adiguna is a PhD candidate at the University of Luxembourg. His research interest is organisational culture within family firms, with a special focus on cultural formation, perpetuation and change as well as the power dimensions within family firms.

Naveed Akhter is a PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, and is affiliated to the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. His research interests are in the areas of entrepreneurship, strategy, organisational change, sensemaking and family firms. The primary focus of his research is entrepreneurial exit strategies in family firm portfolios.

Giuseppe Criaco is a PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, and is affiliated to the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. His research interests are entrepreneurship, strategic management and family business, with a special focus on new firms.

Per Hansson is an external PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, and is affiliated to the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. He works for Landshypotek Bank AB as a financial analyst. His research interest is the growth of family firms. In particular, Hansson is interested in strategies for growth in family firms.

Andreas Kallmuenzer is a PhD candidate at the Department of Strategic Management at the University of Innsbruck, and a research assistant at the Department of Tourism Business Studies at the MCI Management Centre Innsbruck, Austria. His research interests focus on entrepreneurial attitudes in family firms.

Andrea Kuiken is a PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, and is affiliated to the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. Her research interest is the internationalisation of family firms. In particular, Kuiken is interested in withdrawal from foreign markets and possible re-entry.

Gershon Kumeto is a PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, and is affiliated to the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. and Ownership. His research interests are in family business and strategic management, with a special focus on mergers and acquisitions.

Ambra Mazzelli is a PhD candidate at the Institute for Entrepreneurship and Enterprise Development at Lancaster University Management School, United Kingdom. Her main research interests are the causes, consequences and underlying dynamics of organisational change and innovation across firms with different social contexts.

Leif Melin is Professor of Strategy and Organisation, and the Hamrin Professor of Family Business Strategy at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden. He was the founding director of the Centre for Family Enterprise and Ownership (CeFEO) from 2005 to 2012.

Melin’s research focuses on strategising in different contexts, and in the last decade he has had a particular focus on family-owned businesses. He is especially interested in the practices, processes and arenas for active ownership, strategic change and continuous growth. He is a founding member of the global STEP project (Successful Transgenerational Entrepreneurship Practices in family-owned businesses).

Henrietta Nilson is a PhD candidate at the Department of Management and Leadership at Linnaeus University, Växjö, Sweden. Her research interest is to understand the phenomena of invisibility and visibility of family members in their everyday work in the family business through the Freirean Critical Pedagogy perspective.

Mattias Nordqvist is Professor in Business Administration and the Hamrin International Professor of Family Business, and Director of the Centre for Family Enterprise and Ownership (CeFEO) at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden.

Nordqvist is a former co-director of the Global STEP Project and Visiting Scholar at Babson College, US, University of Alberta, Canada, and Bocconi University, Italy. He has served on the board of the International Family Enterprise Research Academy (IFERA). Nordqvist is a recipient of the Young Entrepreneurship Researcher Award from the Swedish Entrepreneurship Forum and the Swedish Agency for Economic and Regional Growth. He is a founding associate editor of the Journal of Family Business Strategy, and serves on the editorial board of several journals.
Emanuela Rondi is a PhD candidate at the Institute for Entrepreneurship and Enterprise Development at Lancaster University Management School, United Kingdom. Her research is at the intersection of organisational social capital, social networks and family business fields, with a special focus on social capital dynamics in and across networks and their evolution in time.

Karin Staffansson Pauli is Assistant Lecturer at Malmö University and a PhD candidate at the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden. Her research interest is within the area of real estate and construction management, with a special focus on gender and organisation in the real estate industry.

Matthias Waldkirch is a PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, and is affiliated to the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. His main research interest is in family business and strategic management, with a special focus on non-family management and the role of non-family chief executive officers (CEOs).

Albertha Wielsma is a Researcher and Lecturer at Windesheim University of Applied Sciences, Netherlands, and a PhD candidate at Jönköping International Business School, Sweden, in affiliation with the Centre of Family Enterprise and Ownership. Her research interest is in corporate communication of family firms, with a special focus on reputation issues that are connected to family ownership of firms.