References to official documents, reports and press releases from the Commission of European Communities are listed under European Commission irrespective of the date they were released. Similarly, the European Council is used to document all references that were associated with its role.

Where a reference is cited but no page number is provided the citation is from a non-paginated document, usually an internet page.

The citation style is to cite the document initially and, if further specific citations follow, then only the page number is given as long as that is not ambiguous.

Quotations from non-English documents are translations of the original by the author.
