

Contents

List of contributors	ix
Foreword by Paul Craig	x
Table of cases	xii
Table of EU Treaties and Agreements	xv
Table of EU legislation	xvi
1 Assessing economic law under crisis – a framework of analysis	1
Harri Kalimo and Max S. Jansson
1.1 Background	1
1.2 Central themes	3
1.3 Outline	5
PART I SETTING THE SCENE: THE EMU AND THE INTERNAL MARKET
2 How the sovereign debt crisis changed the euro zone	15
Jan Strupczewski
2.1 ‘May you live in interesting times’	15
2.2 ‘May you come to the attention of important people’	20
2.3 The third part to the Chinese curse	26
3 A short history of the deepening EMU	28
Taneli Lahti
3.1 The economic crisis	28
3.2 The response to the crisis – reforming economic governance in the EU	30
3.3 The European future emerging from the crisis	34
4 Some thoughts on the internal market in a time of crisis	37
Jonathan Faull
4.1 The banking crisis	37
4.2 Systemic weaknesses of the EMU	39
4.3 Social challenges	40

4.4	The internal market – stability in an increasingly diverse Europe	42
5	The EMU and the internal market during the economic crisis – building bridges over troubled waters? Janne Salminen	43
5.1	The backdrop: gaps and asymmetries	43
5.2	Did the crisis measures change something?	44
5.3	Issues of constitutionality, legitimacy and the institutional setting	49
5.4	More integration – and differentiation	53
PART II PUBLIC PROCUREMENT, TAXATION AND IPRs
6	Protectionism on the rise? Modernization of EU public procurement rules during the economic crisis Maarten Meulenbelt	57
6.1	Internal protectionism in EU procurement law: a brief overview	58
6.2	External protectionism	69
6.3	Conclusions	74
7	The EU public procurement regime on third-country bidders – setting the cursor between openness and reciprocity Frank Hoffmeister	76
7.1	The Government Procurement Agreement of the WTO	77
7.2	The current EU public procurement regime on third-country bidders	79
7.3	The proposed international procurement instrument	82
7.4	Conclusion	88
8	EU Tax Policy during the economic and financial crisis Andreas Strub	89
8.1	Fighting tax fraud, evasion and avoidance has become an overarching theme	90
8.2	Concrete progress as a result of the new dynamic	91
8.3	Tax coordination and enhanced cooperation: new forms of tax policy at the EU level	98
8.4	Interaction between the EU and its international partners	100
8.5	EU Tax Policy in the future: outlook	101

9	Can a best-practice VAT generate more revenues whilst fighting the VAT Gap by 2020? Ine Lejeune	108
9.1	VAT Gap: facts and figures	109
9.2	A best-practice VAT system to generate revenues	115
9.3	The EU's VAT Gap in the light of best-practice	117
9.4	The European Semester: from direct to indirect taxes	121
9.5	The VAT Strategy of the Commission: an opportunity to grow VAT revenues by 2020?	122
9.6	Executing the EU VAT strategy: a sample of recent EU initiatives	124
9.7	Conclusions	132
10	Moving out of the economic crisis: what role and shape for intellectual property rights in the European Union? Christophe Geiger	135
10.1	The current IP system	136
10.2	New perspectives	141
10.3	The European Parliament and the legitimacy crisis of IP	145
10.4	Conclusion: towards a balanced and legitimate IP system for the European Union	148
11	EU intellectual property rights law – driving innovation or stifling the Digital Single Market? Harri Kalimo, Kaisa Olkkonen and Jari Vaario	151
11.1	Standard essential patents in the game of European innovation versus American implementation	151
11.2	Copyright licensing in Europe – how to grow the value added for all stakeholders?	156
11.3	Copyright levies – how will an analogue world concept play in the digital world?	160
11.4	Walking the talk?	162
PART III CONCLUSIONS
12	A wasted crisis? Harri Kalimo and Max S. Jansson	167
12.1	'Pointillist integration'	168
12.2	Institutional dimensions	176
12.3	Social Europe – the pointillist's expanding colour palette	179
12.4	The EU as an international economic actor	185
12.5	A wasted crisis?	188

Bibliography

191

Index

201