Contents

Foreword ix
Acknowledgments x
List of abbreviations xi
Table of international Conventions xiv
Table of judgments and decisions of courts xvi

Introduction 1

1. The history of the distinction between international and non-international armed conflicts 10
1.1 The distinction before the 1949 Geneva Conventions 11
1.1.1 Before 1648 11
1.1.2 1648–1800s 14
1.1.3 1800s–1949 16
1.2 The distinction after the 1949 Geneva Conventions 23
1.2.1 Common Article 3 of the 1949 Geneva Conventions 24
1.2.1.1 The road to Common Article 3 24
1.2.1.2 The Diplomatic Conference (1949) and the ‘Stockholm Proposal’ 28
1.2.2 Attempts of the ICRC to internationalise NIAC prior to the draft of the 1977 Additional Protocols 35
1.2.3 1977 Additional Protocols 37
1.2.3.1 The status of non-state groups at the Diplomatic Conference on the Reaffirmation and Development of International Humanitarian Law Applicable in Armed Conflicts (1974–1977) 37
1.2.3.2 The drafting history of Article 1(4) of API 39
1.2.3.3 Additional Protocol II 43
1.3 Conclusion 46

2. The distinction between international and non-international armed conflicts 48
2.1 International armed conflicts 48
2.1.1 Additional Protocol I 50
Classification of conflicts in international humanitarian law

2.1.2 The threshold of applicability of international armed conflict 51
2.1.3 The use of force in International Armed Conflicts 57

2.2 Non-international armed conflicts 61
2.2.1 Threshold of applicability of CA3 63
2.2.2 Additional Protocol II 69

2.3 Ramifications of the distinction between IACs and NIACs 71
2.3.1 Treaty law 71
2.3.2 Customary law 72
2.3.3 The application of international human rights law to IACs and NIACs 80

2.4 Conclusion 82

3. Direct foreign military intervention in civil wars 84
3.1 Military intervention in support of a territorial state 84
3.1.1 The classification of the armed conflict between the foreign state and the non-state group 85
3.1.2 One or two NIACs and the threshold of NIACs in foreign interventions 88
3.1.3 Low-intensity interventions in favour of the territorial states 91
3.2 Military intervention in support of a non-state group 94
3.3 Classification of interventions when the territorial state does not have a government 95
3.4 Internationalisation of armed conflicts in cases of direct military intervention 98
3.4.1 State practice of internationalisation 103
3.5 Conclusion 111

4. Indirect foreign interventions in civil wars 113
4.1 Indirect intervention as a use of force in IHL 114
4.2 Acting on behalf of a foreign state and the classification of conflicts under CA2 117
4.3 Acting on behalf of a foreign state and the internationalisation of civil wars 122
4.3.1 Alternative tests for internationalisation 126
4.3.1.1 The ‘overall control’ test as an independent test for internationalisation 126
4.3.1.2 The use of force as a trigger for internationalisation 127
Contents

4.3.1.3 Weaker links, such as formal recognition or proxy relationships, as triggers for internationalisation 128
4.3.2 State practice on internationalisation 129
4.3.3 Article 4A(2) and the internationalisation of an ongoing civil war 135
  4.3.3.1 The requirement of ‘belonging to a party to the conflict’ 136
  4.3.3.2 ‘Belonging to a party’ to IAC as the litmus test for internationalisation of ongoing NIAC 137
  4.3.3.3 The meaning of ‘belonging to a party to the conflict’ 138
  4.3.3.4 The requirement of non-allegiance to the Detaining Power 142
4.4 Conclusion 147

5. Representation of states and reclassification of ongoing armed foreign interventions due to a governmental change 151
  5.1 Representation of states and conflict classification 151
  5.2 Reclassifications of armed conflicts as a result of change of governments 157
    5.2.1 Analysis of ostensible instances of reclassification of armed foreign interventions 162
  5.3 Conclusion 170

6. International organisations and foreign interventions in civil wars 172
  6.1 Determining the identity of the parties to an armed conflict involving an IO 174
    6.1.1 Operations conducted under the authorisation of the UN 181
    6.1.2 Operations in which the contributing states exercise their joint control through the IO 185
    6.1.3 Operations in which the contributing states do not exercise their joint control through the IO 188
  6.2 Conflict classification and the applicability of IHL to forces acting on behalf of IOs 193
    6.2.1 Armed conflict between IOs and states 193
    6.2.2 Armed conflict between IOs and non-state groups 199
  6.3 Conclusion 205
viii Classification of conflicts in international humanitarian law

7. Case study: the armed conflicts in Yemen (2015–ongoing) 208
   7.1 Factual background 208
   7.2 Classification of the hostilities between Hadi’s forces and Houthi forces 210
   7.3 Who represents Yemen? 211
   7.4 The classification of the foreign intervention 212
   7.5 Conclusion 216

8. Conclusion 217

Bibliography 219
Index 251