

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
Editorial review board	ix
List of contributors	xi
Preface	xii

PART I BALANCING SUSTAINABLE USE AND NATURAL RESOURCE PROTECTION

1 The use of market-based instruments in protecting South Australia's marine protected areas Karen Bubna-Litic	3
2 A bottom-up approach to developing REDD+ programs in Brazilian states and California Ana Carolina Cerqueira Duque	19
3 Sowing the seed of change: Why Australia's land sector needs a carbon price to encourage mitigation of GHG emissions and promote sustainable land use Vanessa Johnston	35

PART II PROTECTING WATER RESOURCES

4 Fighting for water: The role of federal market instruments in addressing water issues in the United States Mona L. Hymel	51
5 The impact of hydraulic fracturing on fresh water resources in the United States Hans Sprohge, Bill Butcher, Mary Margaret Callison and Larry Kreiser	73
6 Policy instruments to support water conservation and support the ecosystem: A California example Rahmat Tavallali and Paul Lee	92

PART III SHIFTING THE TAX BURDEN TO EFFECT ENVIRONMENTALLY RESPONSIBLE
OUTCOMES

- 7 From fossil fuels to renewable energy: Subsidy reform and energy transition in African and Indian Ocean island states 107
Kai Schlegelmilch, Jacqueline Cottrell and François Fortier
- 8 Using environmental taxation to improve outcomes for e-waste in Australia 124
Wayne Gumley
- 9 The ad unit and ad valorem tax burden shifting and its impact on Pigovian taxation in the European Union Member States 140
Danuse Nerudova and Marian Dobranschi

PART IV EVALUATING INSTRUMENTS THAT PROTECT THE GLOBAL ATMOSPHERE

- 10 Carbon trading or carbon tax: Which is the more feasible solution to climate change from the perspective of China? 157
Mingde Cao
- 11 Regulation of ship-sourced carbon dioxide emissions: The creation of economic instruments 173
Stathis Palassis
- 12 Sectoral allocation patterns in the EU Emission Trading Scheme: Empirical evidence and outlook 192
Claudia Kettner
- 13 Paris: The dilemmas of international climate change negotiations and the role of linked Emissions Trading Schemes in the post-2020 regime 204
Elena de Lemos Pinto Aydos
- 14 Just ETS? Social justice and recent reforms in EU and US carbon markets 220
Achim Lerch and Sven Rudolph
- Index* 235