

About the author

Dr R. James Ferguson is Director of the Centre for East-West Cultural and Economic Studies and Assistant Professor of International Relations in the Faculty of Society and Design, Bond University, Australia. He has been engaged in research, writing, teaching and publication roles, and is a member of several international relations and strategic studies organizations. He is actively involved in research and teaching in International Relations, European and Eurasian Studies, the Indo-Pacific Region, and global processes. He has a background in history, cultural systems and Asian affairs. He has presented papers on these issues in Australia, Singapore, Malaysia, China, Japan, India, Austria, Serbia, Indonesia and the UK. Recently co-authored books include China's Quest for Global Order: From Peaceful Rise to Harmonious World and The Politics and Philosophy of Chinese Power: The Timeless and the Timely. He regularly visits Asia to assess new trends in regionalism and international relations.