We are grateful for the financial support and practical assistance of AusAID/Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) (AusAID Agreement No. 61016). We acknowledge also financial support from One Billion Strong (Qatar, 2014) and Judy Harris (who supported this publication). We thank the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) and its many implementing and operational partners without whom much of our fieldwork would not have been possible; and the government representatives (federal/central, municipal/provincial and local) in Jordan, Pakistan, Turkey and Uganda who took an interest in our work and provided a wide range of bureaucratic and logistical assistance.

For research assistance we thank: Katarina Sario (in Malaysia and Indonesia), Matthew Cole, Phoebe Kiat, Hannah Martin, Anna Pejovic (research and writing), Natalie Mendes, Ellen Moore and Dominic Wilcox-Watson (research and editing). Nick Findlater, Ella Alexander, Daniel Zwi, Rachael Knapman, Hope Williams, Aman Mann and Tamsin Janu assisted with the Uganda data. In Pakistan, Bilal Khan (logistical assistance) and Edgar Scrase and Shafqat Mehmood of UNHCR in Islamabad; in Turkey, Metin Çorabatır and IGAM. Finally, we acknowledge the work and support of Michelle Foster, Jane McAdam, Marianne Schulze and of Mr Eric Zhang, UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs in New York. Mr Zhang assisted us by arranging for Professor Crock to present the findings of this research to the 8th Meeting of States Parties to the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in 2015.

In what follows we have attempted to collect the key personnel who assisted us in our research and fieldwork – with apologies extended to our many unnamed interpreters and any we may have overlooked. We thank: AusAID/DFAT: Rosemary McKay, Renee Paxton, Laurie Dunn, Kristen Pratt, Rebecca Gibb.
