

Index

- 3-point-estimate 117
- 3Ps (P3M) 2, 3, 61

- absorptive capacity 133, 136
- academia 177
- academic literature 3–4
- accountability 43–44, 95, 100
- achieved outcomes 158
- actors 143–144
- adaptability 136
- adhesion, logical 6–8
- advanced level of governance 56, 57
- adverse selection 96
- agency theory 96–97
- agile life-cycles 113
- Agile Manifesto 142
- agile pragmatist paradigm 48, 49–50, 99, 189–191
- agility 34
- Amazon 13
- analytic constructs 143
- Andersen, E. 102, 136
- Apple 130
- Aristotle 122
- assessment of OPM see OPM assessment
- Association for International Project Management Officers (AIPMO) 30
- Association of Project Management (APM) principles of governance 51
- Aubry, M. 3, 31, 32, 33, 68, 102
- audit sub-system 194, 195, 196
- Australian government department see government department case study
- authentic leadership 123
- authoritative governmentality 53–54, 181
- autonomy 84–85

- Badewi, A. 145
- balanced leadership 125–128
- balancing 63, 65–66
 - portfolio optimization 70–73
- Barki, H. 83
- Barney, J. 130
- Barthes, R. 52–53
- basic level of governance 56–57
- Battilana, J. 142
- Beer, S. 193, 194
- behaviour control 47–50, 99
- benchmarking 141
- benefits management 63, 67
- benefits realization management (BRM) 2, 4, 5–6, 9, 60, 63, 67, 73–76, 76–77
 - EE case study 165–166
 - OPM assessment 182, 192
- bespoke-designed products 23
- between-layer interactions 25, 38, 58–59, 76–77, 156–160
- between-layer relationships 156
- Bezos, J. 13
- Biesenthal, C. 144
- Biffi, S. 72–73
- Board of Directors 101
- boundary-crossing facets 81–82
- Bourgault, M. 84–85
- Bradley, G. 73–74, 74–75
- Breese, R. 73, 74, 75
- Bresnen, M. 144
- bundling
 - government department 172–173
 - resource management 137–139
- business integration 7, 9, 58, 60–77, 80
 - benefits realization see benefits realization management (BRM)
 - EE case study 165–166, 168
 - government department case study 172–173
 - institutional theory 151

- links between OPM model layers
 - 76–77
- OPM assessment 181–182, 185–192
- OPM systems design 195–196, 198
- portfolio management 60, 61–63, 65–70, 76–77, 101, 181–182, 192
- portfolio management cycle 63
- portfolio optimization 60, 70–73, 76–77, 182, 192
- portfolio strategy 29–30, 60, 63–65, 76–77, 181, 192
- theory of the OPM model 155, 156, 159–160
- Business Sector Advisory Group on Corporate Governance (Millstein Report) 43, 95–96
- Byars, L. L. 13
- capabilities 3, 130–131, 132, 135–136
 - building 132–133, 136
 - dynamic 132–133, 136
 - see also* resource-based view (RBV)
- categorization 63, 65
- changes to the project 118–119
- Chi, C. S. F. 145
- Chia, R. 13–14, 15
- Chih, Y. 74, 76
- Child, J. 16, 82
- China
 - OPM assessment 185–189, 191
 - pharmaceutical company 138–139
- churn 23–24
- classical management theories 15–16
- close-out phase 112, 113
- Cochrane, R. 115–116
- coercive isomorphism 141
- cohesion, logical 6–8
- collaboration, inter-organizational
 - 86–87
- competing values model 32
- complementary within-layer
 - relationships 155–156
- complex product systems (CoPS) 23
- complexity perspectives 18
- comply-or-explain governance 50–51
- comply-or-penalty governance 50–51
- concept phase 112
- conflicts in global projects 146–147
- conformist paradigm 48, 49–50, 99, 190, 191
- Confucius 122
- construction project conflicts 146–147
- context dependence 8
- contingency-based theories 16, 17–18
 - institutional theory and 147–148
- contraction and growth 34
- control
 - governance paradigms 47–50
 - implementation and control phase 112–113, 117–119
 - level of and organizational integration 84–85
 - management control 63, 66–67
 - sub-system 194, 195–196
- convergent methodologies 107–108
- Cooper, R. G. 65, 70–71
- coordination sub-system 194, 195, 196
- corporate governance 42, 43–44
 - orientation and control 47–50
 - and project governance 94–96
- costs estimation 117
- Crawford, L. 3
- Critical Path Method (CPM) 109–111
- critical success factors (CSFs) 121
- cultural-cognitive elements 142–143, 150–151
- culture 16
- Dean, M. 53, 157–158
- decision making 85–86
 - in the public sector 106
- DeFillippi, R. 82–83
- definition (planning) cycle 63, 65–66
- delivery cycle 63, 66–68
- design
 - designing OPM systems 196–199
 - organizational philosophy and 13–19
- design thinking 18
- development of OPM 3–4
- Dille, T. 144
- DiMaggio, P. J. 142
- direct governmentality 54
- distributed leadership 125, 126–127
- divisional structure 19–20
- Dolan, D. 85–86
- Donaldson, T. 18–19
- Drouin, N. 64–65, 84–85, 137–138
- Dulewicz, V. 123–124
- dynamic capabilities 132–133, 136

- earned value management (EVM) 118
 Edgett, S. J. 65, 70–71 education of project managers 55–56
 EE case study 162–169
 business integration 165–166, 168
 OPM approach 164–165, 168
 OPM governance 165, 168
 organizational integration 166–167, 168
 organizational philosophy 163–164, 168
 project governance 167, 168
 effectiveness 26–27 efficiency 26–27, 131–132 efforts, estimating 117 elements of OPM 4
 identification of 5–6
 see also under individual elements emergent methodologies 108 emotional intelligence 123 emotional leadership competences 123 energy sector company see EE case study engaging leadership style 124
 Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) projects 145
 episteme 157–160
 epistemology 15 estimation 117
 evolutionary algorithm 72–73
- fairness 43–44, 96, 100
 Fayol, H. 15 financial management 63, 67
 flexible economist paradigm 48–50, 99, 189, 190
 Ford Motors 16
 Foucault, M. 52–53, 156
 Freeman, R. E. 18
 functional organizational structure 19, 20
- Gaddis, P. O. 111
 Gemünden, H. G. 68
 General Motors 16
 generative learning 133
 George, G. 132, 133
 Geraldini, J. 144, 148, 149
 German project networks 145–146 goal-oriented leadership style 124
- goals 115–116
 Gobeli, D. H. 20
 Goleman, D. 123
 governance 42
 corporate see corporate governance
 OPM governance see OPM governance organizational 63, 67–68
 portfolio 67–69
 principles of good governance 43–44, 95–96, 100
 project governance see project governance
 theory of the OPM model 153, 157–160
 governance institutions 92, 101–105, 183, 192
 governance models 42, 50–52, 98–99, 100
 OPM assessment 180, 192
 governance paradigms 42, 46–50, 99
 OPM assessment 180, 189–191, 192
 governance of project management 43, 54–58
 institutional theory 150, 151
 OPM assessment 181, 192
 government department case study 170–175
 business integration 172–173
 OPM approach and OPM governance 172
 organizational integration 173
 organizational philosophy 171–172
 project governance and management 173–174 governmentality 14, 43, 52–54
 institutional theory 150, 151
 OPM assessment 180–181, 192
 theory of the OPM model 156–160
 Greenwood, R. 16–17
 growth and contraction 34
- Hamel, E. 84–85
 hard and soft governance model 98, 100
 Higgs, M. 123–124
 high-tech industries 87
 history 33
 Hitt, M. A. 137
 Hobbs, B. 3, 31, 32, 33

- Hobday, M. 22–23
 Hofstede, G. 16
 horizontal leadership 125, 126–127
 Huemann, M. 21, 22
 human relations movement 16
 human resource management (HRM) 8, 17, 22 hybrid life-cycles 113
 hybrid strategy 29–30
- identification 157–160
 implementation control 64
 implementation and control phase 112–113, 117–119 implementation patterns 187–189 incremental life-cycles 113 indirect governmentality 54
 information asymmetry 96 information technology (IT) 8 innovation 131–132
 innovation by design 18
 institutional embeddedness 145–146
 institutional entrepreneurs 142
 institutional logics 17, 143
 institutional theory 14, 16–17, 140–152
 application to projects 145–147 importance to project management 144
 institutional entrepreneurs 142
 isomorphism 141
 OPM and 148–152
 and other theoretical approaches 147–148
 and projects 142–144
 institutional thickness 145 integrated within-layer relationships 155 integration
 business see business integration
 OPM as resource orchestration 137–139 organizational see organizational integration intellectual leadership competences 123–124 intelligence sub-system 194, 195 intended outcomes 158
 interactions between layers 25, 38, 58–59, 76–77
 theory of the OPM model 156–160
 interactions within layers 156–160 intermediate level of governance 56, 57
 International Project Management Association (IPMA) 111 inter-organizational collaboration 86–87 interpretivist paradigm 14–15 involving leadership style 124
 Ireland, R. D. 137
 ISO Standards 51, 111
 isomorphism 141
 issues driving transitions 34–35
 iterative life-cycles 113
- Jackson, M. 193
 Jamieson, A. 61
 Jaradat, R. M. 193
 Javernick-Will, A. N. 145
 Johns, G. 8
 Jugdev, K. 61
- Kamoche, K. N. 132
 Keegan, A. 23
 Killen, C. P. 61, 64–65
 Klakegg, O. J. 102, 106
 Kleinschmidt, E. J. 65, 70–71
 knowledge areas for PPM 69
 Kock, A. 61, 64
 Kopmann, J. 61, 64
 Korean car manufacturers 141
 Kremmel, T. 72–73
 Kubalik, J. 72–73
 Kunc, M. 75–76
- Larsen, E. W. 20
 Laufer, A. 85
 layered governance model 51–52, 99, 100 layers of the OPM model 6–8
 between-layer interactions 25, 38, 58–59, 76–77, 156–160
 between-layer relationships 156
 within-layer interactions 156–160
 within-layer relationships 154–156
 see also under individual layers leadership 109, 121–128 balanced 125–128
 horizontal 125, 126–127
 shared and distributed 124–125, 126–127

- styles 124
- vertical 122–124, 126–127
- legitimacy 140, 143, 145
- Lessard, D. 90, 133
- leveraging 137–139
- Levitt, R. E. 146–147
- liberal governmentality 53–54, 181
- life-cycles see project life-cycles
- Lindkvist, L. 24, 82–83
- logical adhesion 6–8
- logical cohesion 6–8
- M-Form organizations 16
- Mahalingam, A. 146–147
- Making Project Critical movement 120
- management 43
 - classical management theories 15–16
 - and leadership 121–122
 - project management see project management
 - theories applicable to project governance 96–98
- management control 63, 66–67
- management demand 55–56
- Management of Portfolios* (MoP) 61–63, 63–64, 65–68, 71
- managerial leadership competences 123–124
- Mancini, M. 22, 23, 154
- Manning, S. 24
- Margolis, S. 13
- Mariana Dam 141
- Martinsuo, M. 69–70
- matrix structure 19
- Maylor, H. 36, 119
- megaprojects 78, 81, 88–89, 90–91
 - EE case study 162–169
 - OPM assessment 182–183, 192
- Meredith, J. R. 74
- methodologies 107–108
 - OPM assessment 184, 192
- methods, goals and 115–116
- Midler, C. 35
- Miller, D. 16–17
- Miller, P. 54
- Miller, R. 90
- Millstein Report 43, 95–96
- mimetic isomorphism 141
- Miterev, M. 22, 23, 154
- models, governance see governance models
- moral hazard 96
- Morris, P. W. G. 61, 144, 148, 149
- Müller, R. 31, 54, 137–138
 - organizational enablers 149–150
 - project governance 95, 99, 100, 102, 103
 - standardization 106
 - transition between vertical and horizontal leadership 126–127
- multi-objective evolutionary algorithm 72–73
- multi-project approach 7, 9, 25, 26, 27–30
 - OPM assessment 179, 192
 - strategies for the multi-project organization 26–27, 39–40
- multi-project strategy 27–30
- mutual exclusivity 154
- Neil, T. C. 13
- neo-institutional theory 14, 140, 142
- neoliberal governmentality 54, 181
- nested governance model 51–52, 98–99, 100
- Netherlands, the 185–192
- network researchers 24
- networks 1–2
 - project networks 145–146
- Nidiffer, K. E. 85–86
- Nogeste, K. 80
- normative elements 142–143, 150–151
- normative isomorphism 141
- normative stakeholder approach 18–19
- OECD 43, 94–95
- operations sub-system 194, 195, 196
- OPM 1–2
 - development of 3–4
 - development of the ‘onion’ model 4–9
 - and institutional theory 148–152
 - model layers mapped onto VSM model 194–196
 - organizational integration and 88–89
 - and resource-based view 134–139
- OPM approach 7–8, 9, 25, 26–41, 58–59
 - contextual contingencies 38

- EE case study 164–165, 168
- government department case study 172
- institutional theory and 149
- multi-project approach see multi-project approach
- OPM assessment 178–180, 185–192
- OPM systems design 194–195, 197
- organizational PMOs see
 - organizational PMOs (OPMOs)
- projectification see projectification
- RT case 38–41
- strategies for the multi-project organization 26–27, 39–40
- theory of the OPM model 155, 156
- OPM assessment 176–192
 - data analysis and results 185–191
 - data collection 177–185, 186
- OPM governance 7, 9, 38, 42–59
 - contextual contingencies 58–59
 - EE case study 165, 168
 - governance models 42, 50–52, 180, 192
 - governance paradigms 42, 46–50, 99, 180, 189–191, 192
 - governance of project management 43, 54–58, 150, 151, 181, 192
 - government department case study 172
 - governmentality see governmentality
 - institutional theory and 149
 - OPM assessment 180–181, 185–192
 - OPM systems design 195, 197
 - principles of good governance 43–44, 95–96, 100
 - theory of the OPM model 155, 156
- OPM systems design 196–199
- Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) 43, 94–95
- organizational core competences 131
- organizational culture 131
- organizational enablers 149–151
- organizational form 81–83
- organizational governance 63, 67–68
- organizational integration 6–7, 9, 78–91
 - basic tenets of integration 83–84
 - basic tenets of organizational form 81–83
 - challenges of 84–87
 - EE case study 166–167, 168
 - government department case study 173
 - institutional theory and 151 and OPM 88–89
 - OPM assessment 182–183, 185–192
 - OPM systems design 195, 196, 198
 - theory of the OPM model 155–156, 159–160
- organizational learning 132
- organizational philosophy 8, 9, 11–25 and design 13–19
 - EE case study 163–164, 168
 - government department case study 171–172
 - institutional theory and 148–149
 - OPM assessment 178, 185–192
 - OPM systems design 194–195, 197
- process-oriented organizations see process-oriented organizations (ProcOOs)
- project-based organizations see project-based organizations (PBOs)
- project-oriented organizations see project-oriented organizations (POOs)
 - theory of the OPM 154, 159
- organizational PMOs (OPMOs) 2, 7, 9, 25, 40, 58–59
 - images of 31–34
 - OPM approach 26, 27, 30–35
 - OPM assessment 179, 187, 189, 192
 - OPM systems design 195, 196
 - typology of 32–33
- organizational policies 94, 105–106, 183, 192
- organizational theories 13–14
- organizational unit, OPMO as 31
- organizations and organizing 15
- outcome control 47–50, 99
- paradigms 14–15, 46
 - governance see governance paradigms
- perceived pressure 55–56
- performance 32

- philosophy, organizational see
 - organizational philosophy
- Pinsonneault, A. 83
- Pisano, G. 132–133
- planning cycle 63, 65–66
- planning phase 112, 114–117
- policies, organizational 94, 105–106, 183, 192
- policy sub-system 194–195
- politics 33
- portfolio communication management 69
- portfolio governance 67–69
- portfolio governance management 69
- portfolio management 60, 61–63, 65–70, 76–77, 101, 181–182, 192
- portfolio management cycle 63
- portfolio optimization 60, 70–73, 76–77, 182, 192
- portfolio performance management 69
- portfolio risk management 69
- portfolio strategic management 69
- portfolio strategy 29–30, 60, 63–65, 76–77, 181, 192
- portfolios 2, 61
- positivist paradigm 14–15
- Powell, W. W. 142
- power 33
- practitioner literature 3–4
- precept 158–160
- predictive life-cycles 112–120
 - processes and tasks 114–120
- predictive methodologies 107
- premise control 64
- Preston, L. E. 18–19
- principles 3–4
- principles-based governance 50–51
- principles of governance 43–44, 95–96, 100
- prioritization 63, 65, 66
- procedures 105
- process compliance (behaviour control) 47–50, 99
- process governance model 51, 98, 100
- process-oriented organizations (ProcOOs) 21, 140, 154
 - institutional theory 148–149
 - OPM assessment 178, 187–189, 192
 - organizational philosophy 11, 19–20, 25
- processes
 - OPM as a process 135–136
 - organizational form 81–82
- professional services firms 16–17
- professionalization of project management 111
- Program (or Project) Evaluation and Review Technique (PERT) 109–111, 117
- programme management 101
- programme strategy 29–30
- programmes 2, 61, 78–91
 - OPM assessment 182–183, 192
 - organizational integration 78, 80–81, 88–89, 90, 91
- programmification 36
- project-based organizations (PBOs) 84, 140, 154
 - institutional theory 148–149
 - OPM assessment 178, 187–189, 192
 - organizational philosophy 11, 22–25
- project governance 6, 9, 80, 92–108
 - corporate governance and 94–96
 - EE case study 167, 168
 - governance models 98–99, 100
 - governance paradigms 99
 - government department case study 173–174
 - institutional theories and 149–151
 - management theories applicable to 96–98
 - methodology 107–108, 184, 192
 - OPM assessment 183–184, 185–192
 - OPM systems design 195, 196, 198
 - policies 94, 105–106, 183, 192
 - relations 94, 107, 183–184, 192
 - theory of the OPM model 155, 156
- project governance institutions 92, 101–105, 183, 192
- project leadership 109, 121–128
- project-led organizations 84
- project life-cycles 111–120
 - EE case study 162
 - processes and tasks for predictive life-cycles 114–120
- project management 6, 9, 109–128, 156
 - governance of 43, 54–58, 150, 151, 181, 192
 - government department case study 174

- history 109–111
- importance of institutional theory to 144
- institutional theory and 151–152
- OPM assessment 184, 185–192
- OPM systems design 195, 196, 198–199
- in ProcOOs 20
- project leadership 109, 121–128
- project success 120–121
- Project Management Institute (PMI) 3, 111
- Practice Guide for Governance of Portfolios, Programs and Projects 50
- Standard for Portfolio Management 63, 64, 69, 70
- project management offices (PMOs) 2, 26, 27, 30, 92, 102
 - OPM systems design 195, 196
 - organizational PMOs see organizational PMOs (OPMOs)
- project management standards 3, 119
- project management success 120
- project managers
 - education of 55–56
 - qualities 103–104
 - role 111
- project networks 145–146
- project office (PO) 30
- project-oriented organizations (POOs) 140, 154
 - institutional theory 148–149
 - OPM assessment 178, 187–189, 192
 - organizational philosophy 11, 21–22, 25
- project portfolio management (PPM) 60, 61–63, 65–70, 76–77, 101, 181–182, 192
- project portfolio management office (PPMO) 67, 68
- project portfolio optimization 60, 70–73, 76–77, 182, 192
- project portfolio strategy 29–30, 60, 63–65, 76–77, 181, 192
- project sponsor 92, 104–105
- project steering groups/committees 92, 101, 103–104
- project success 120–121
- project types 46–47
- projectification 7–8, 9, 25, 58–59
 - dimensions of 37–38
 - OPM approach 26, 27, 35–38, 40
 - OPM assessment 179–80, 192
 - phases at Renault 35–36
- projects 2, 61, 80–91
 - application of institutional theory to 145–147
 - institutional theory and 142–144
 - OPM assessment 182–183, 192
 - organizational integration 78, 80, 88–89, 90, 91
- protocols 105
- public sector 176–177
 - government department case study 170–175
- ranking 65, 66, 70
- regulative elements 142–143, 150–151
- relations 94, 107
 - OPM assessment 183–184, 192
 - Renault 35–36
- requirements 114–115
- resource-based view (RBV) 14, 16–17, 130–139
 - fundamentals and evolution 130–134
 - institutional theory and 147–148
 - OPM and 134–139
 - OPM as a process 135–136
 - OPM as a resource 134–135
 - OPM as a resource orchestration 137–139
- resource management 63, 68
- resource orchestration 133–134
 - OPM as 137–139
- responsibility 43–44, 96, 100
- risk assessment 118
- risk management 63, 67, 118
- risk mitigation 118
- risk sharing 96, 107
- roles in project governance 101–105, 183, 192
- Rose, N. 54
- Rowlinson, S. 51, 98, 100
- rules-based governance 50–51
- Sankaran, S. 137–138
- Scandinavian School of Project Studies 119–120
- scheduling 117

- scientific management 16
- Scott, W. R. 142–143, 147–148
- Sedlmayer, M. 64
- Segon, M. 51, 98, 100
- Serra, C. E. M. 75–76
- Shapira, A. 85
- shared leadership 124–127
- shareholder orientation 18, 47–50, 99
- Shehab, E. 145
- Shenhar, A. J. 85
- Shuen, A. 132–133
- Siemens 87
- Sirmon, D. G. 133, 137
- SMART requirements 115
- social intelligence 123
- social responsibility 82
- Söderlund, J. 24, 136, 144
- soft and hard governance model 98, 100
- software programs for portfolio optimization 71–72
- sponsor 92, 104–105
- Staber, U. 145–146
- stage-gates 112, 113
- stakeholder management 63, 67
- stakeholder orientation 18–19, 47–50, 99
- standardization 33, 106
- standards 3, 119
- Standish Group 119
- star model 23
- steering groups/committees 92, 101, 103–104
- stewardship theory 97
- strategic alignment 70–71
- strategic capabilities 133
- strategic PMOs see organizational PMOs (OPMOs)
- strategic surveillance 64
- strategy
 - development of 15
 - hybrid strategy 29–30
 - multi-project strategy 27–30
 - portfolio strategy 29–30, 60, 63–65, 76–77, 181, 192
 - programme strategy 29–30
 - strategies for the multi-project organization 26–27, 39–40
- structure, organizational 81–83
- structuring 137–139
- sub-systems 194–196
- success, project 120–121
- success criteria 121
- success factors 121
- Sydow, J. 24, 82–83, 145–146
- symbolic processes 143
- systems theory perspective 193–196
 - designing OPM systems 196–199
- Taylor, F. W. 16
- techné 157–160
- Teece, D. J. 132–133
- Tell, F. 24
- temporary organizations 36–37
- theory of the OPM model 153–160
 - between-layer relationships 156
 - within- and between-layer interactions 156–160
 - within-layer relationships 154–156
- Thuillier, D. 3, 33
- titanium dioxide 38
- Too, E. G. 52, 98–99, 100
- tools and techniques 3
- transaction cost economics (TCE) 97–98
- transactional leadership 122, 123
- transformation 33
- transformational leadership 122–123
- transitions of (O)PMOs 33–35
- transparency 43–44, 95, 100
- Tsoukas, H. 13–14, 15
- Turner, J. R. 22, 23, 51, 98, 100, 115–116, 154
- Type A projects 46
- Type B projects 46
- Type C projects 46–47
- typology of (O)PMOs 32–33
- U-Form organizations 16
- understanding 63, 65
- Unger, B. N. 68
- Vaagaasar, A. L. 136
- value maximization 70–71
- Van de Ven, A. 17–18
- versatile artist paradigm 48, 49–50, 99, 189, 190
- vertical leadership 122–124, 126–127
- viable systems model (VSM) 193, 194–196

- visibility 157–160
Voisey, C. A. 133
Volden, G. H. 102, 106
- Walker, D. 51, 80, 98, 100
Wang, A. 54
waterfall models 107
Weaver, P. 52, 98–99, 100
Weber, M. 15
Weick, K. 15
- Welcomer, S. A. 18
Williamson, O. 97–98
within-layer interactions 156–160
within-layer relationships 154–156
work breakdown structure (WBS) 112, 115
- Zahra, S. A. 132, 133
Zhai, L. 54
Zwikael, O. 74, 76