

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	Introduction	1
1.2	The nature and scope	5
1.3	Theoretical and epistemological framework	6
1.4	The rationale and motivation for the book	8
1.5	Methodological philosophy	9
1.6	An overview of the book	11
2	Critical reflections on development in the Muslim world	13
2.1	Introduction	13
2.2	Performance of Muslim countries	16
2.2.1	Corruption perception index	16
2.2.2	Human development index	18
2.2.3	Rule of law index	31
2.2.4	The index of economic freedom	42
2.2.5	Legatum prosperity index	44
2.2.6	Global competitiveness report	45
2.2.7	Globalization index	46
2.3	Islam and underdevelopment: a survey	47
2.4	Development in Islam	56
2.5	Conclusion	59
3	Islamic Moral Economy and development	61
3.1	Introduction	61
3.2	The rationale for the emergence of IME	62
3.3	The systemic nature of IME	64
3.3.1	The framework of IME	65
3.3.2	The philosophical foundations and fundamental principles of IME approach to development	66
3.3.3	Value system	71
3.3.4	The implications of IME value system, operational principles and mechanism	73
3.3.5	Methodology of IME	76
3.4	Operationalization of IME: Islamic banking and finance	77

3.5	Development in Islam: concept, process and goals	80
3.5.1	Islamic economic development concept	80
3.5.2	Goals of economic development in Islam	83
3.5.3	Islamic economic development process	92
3.6	Conclusion	94
4	Justice and development within the Islamic paradigm	96
4.1	Introduction	96
4.2	Ontological and epistemological sources of justice in Islam	97
4.2.1	The literary meaning of justice in Arabic	99
4.2.2	Justice in the Qur'an and Traditions	101
4.3	Justice, the goal of Islamic society	109
4.3.1	Equality, fraternity and cooperation	109
4.3.2	Welfare rights and obligation	110
4.3.3	Economic and property rights and obligations	111
4.4	Conclusion	112
5	A critical evaluation of the social and economic development performance of Islamic banks	114
5.1	Introduction	114
5.2	Islamic banking and finance: an introduction	115
5.2.1	Profit and loss sharing schemes	116
5.2.2	Non-profit and loss sharing instruments	118
5.3	Evaluating Islamic banking financing through instruments of financing	119
5.3.1	Global data of Islamic banks – modes of finance	122
5.3.2	Regional data of Islamic banks – modes of finance	123
5.3.3	Country level analysis – modes of finance	126
5.4	Evaluating Islamic banks' financing through economic sectors	135
5.4.1	Global data of Islamic banks – sectorial distribution	135
5.4.2	Regional data of Islamic banks – sectorial distribution	137
5.4.3	Country level analysis – sectorial distribution	141
5.5	The reasons for opting out of PLS financing in Islamic financing	149
5.6	Evaluating the financial behavioural norms of Muslim customers of Islamic banks: demand side analysis	152
5.7	Conclusion	155

6	Conceptualizing the Islamic development process	158
6.1	Introduction	158
6.2	Falah and development – Ghazalian framework	159
6.2.1	Ghazalian political economy	159
6.2.2	Modelling Islamic development process through Ghazalian framework	161
6.3	Justice and development process within Islamic Moral Economy: a proposal	170
6.3.1	Islamic development model – proposed	172
6.4	Alternatives to IBF to essentialize development and justice: policy reflection	177
6.5	Conclusion	188
7	Conclusion	190
7.1	Towards Islamic economic development: some reflections	190
7.2	Reflecting on the theoretical and epistemological framework	195
7.3	Implications of the proposed model	198
7.4	Epilogue	199
	References	201
	Glossary	218
	Index	221

