

Index

---

- About the author ix
  - Jay Westcott ix
  - John M. Westcott, Jr. ix–x
  - Westcott Legal Consulting LLC x
- administrative staff 105–110
  - Strong administrative staff Chapter 9, 105–110
- advancement of women 79–80
  - Diversity and advancement of women §5.10, 79–80
- age discrimination 129
  - Age Discrimination in Employment Act (“ADEA”) §13.1, 129
- Associates 87–91, 96, 97, 139–141
  - Associate compensation §8.2, 96, 97
  - Evaluating associates §7.2, 87–91
  - Hiring patterns; associate compensation §14.2, 139–141
- Attitudes of lawyers §14.7, 146, 147
- billing alternatives 9, 10, 78
  - Rising billing rates; billing alternatives §1.5, 9, 10
- budget 78
  - Setting and meeting a budget §5.7, 78
- building blocks 49–53
  - The key building blocks §3.2, 49–51
  - The key building blocks of a lasting and successful law firm Chapter 3, 49–53
- business model 149
  - The profitable business model for today’s market §14.9, 149–150
- business plan 102–104
  - Information statement or business plan §8.5, 102–104
- Client relationships §1.4, 8, 9
- client service 70–80
  - Client service Chapter 5, 70–80
  - Learning from other client service businesses §5.4, 75–76
  - Negative comments from clients §5.2, 71–73
  - Positive comments from clients §5.3, 73–75
- compensation 26–29, 47, 48, 93, 95–104
  - Compensation consistent with evaluation §7.5, 93
  - Fair compensation Chapter 8, 95–104
  - Financial rewards §1.15, 26–29
  - The importance of a fair compensation system §2.12, 47, 48
- conclusion 152–154
  - Conclusion Chapter 15, 152–154
- consolidation 14, 15, 147, 148
  - Consolidation 1.8, 14, 15
  - Future consolidation of law firms §14.8, 147, 148
- controlling growth 36, 37
  - The advantages and disadvantages of controlling or restraining growth §2.5, 36, 37
- culture 16–18, 52, 124, 125, 153, 154
  - A culture of excellence §15.3, 153, 154
  - Building an attractive firm culture §3.4, 52
  - Creating a firm worth preserving §12.4, 124, 125
  - Firm culture and governance §1.9, 16–18

- Difficulty in addressing new markets §2.4, 35
- distinctive 152, 153
  - Make your firm distinctive §15.2, 152, 153
- diversity 79, 80
  - Diversity and advancement of women §5.10, 79, 80
- Dividing the Pie: An Analysis of Law Firm Compensation Systems*
  - About the author ix, 95
- early retirement 135
  - Early retirement §13.4, 135
- economies of scale 143, 144
  - Size of the law firm; economies of scale §14.5, 143, 144
- elevation to partnership 46, 47, 141, 142
  - Elevation to partnership §14.3, 141, 142
  - The importance of a high partnership standard 2.11, 46, 47
- evaluating lawyers 45, 46, 87–94
  - Evaluating lawyers Chapter 7, 87–94
  - Evaluating lawyers at all levels 2.10, 45, 46
  - Explaining of the evaluation to the lawyer; firm standards §7.6, 94
- excellence 153, 154
  - A culture of excellence 15.3, 153, 154
- Executive Director 105, 106
  - Executive director §9.2, 105, 106
- feedback 90, 102
  - Feedback to partners §8.4, 102
- financial rewards 26–29
  - Financial rewards §1.15, 26–29
- firm growth 5, 6
  - Firm growth §1.2, 5, 6
- Flexibility of legal roles §14.4, 142, 143
- free benefits to clients 79
  - Providing free benefits to clients §5.8, 79
- Fundamentals of Law Firm Management* About the author ix, 45
- future marketplace 150, 151
  - The future marketplace §14.10, 150, 151
- future of the profession 138–151
  - The future of the profession Chapter 14, 138–151
- geography 34, 35
  - Geographic scope §2.4, 34, 35
- governance 16–18, 54–59
  - Comparison of the governance structures of large law firms and business corporations 4.2, 54–57
  - Effective governance Chapter 4, 54–59
  - Firm culture and governance §1.9, 16–18
- government lawyers §1.13, 23, 24
- Hale and Dorr ix, Introduction 3, 4, 112
- hiring patterns; recruiting; mobility 10–12, 139–141
  - Hiring patterns; associate compensation §14.2, 139–141
- In-house legal departments §1.12, 21, 22, 23
- institution 52, 53, 85
  - Assessment from an institutional firm-wide viewpoint §6.5, 85
  - Building a lasting institution §3.5, 52, 53
- Introduction 1–4
- Large law firms and the success of the growth model Chapter 1, 5–29
- lateral partners 14, 92, 93
  - Evaluating lateral partners §7.4, 92, 93

- leadership 61–65, 83, 84
  - Department and practice group leaders §6.3, 83, 84
  - Individual partner leadership §4.6, 61–64
  - Motivating partners to be leaders §4.7, 64, 65
  - Office leadership §6.4, 84
- legal marketplace of today and tomorrow 20, 21, 138–151
  - The future of the profession Chapter 14, 138–151
  - The legal marketplace of today and tomorrow §1.11, 20, 21
- legal roles 142, 143
  - Flexibility of legal roles §14.4, 142, 143
- legal talent pool 25
  - Evolving of the legal talent pool §1.14, 25
- Listening to partners §4.5, 60, 61
- management committee 63, 66, 67
  - The balance between the management committee and the managing partners §4.9, 66, 67
- managers (staff) 109
  - High-level managers §9.4, 109
- managing partners 66, 67, 122–124
  - Developing young partners' management skills §12.3, 123, 124
  - Involving many partners in management §12.2, 122, 123
  - The balance between the management committee and the managing partners §4.9, 66, 67
- mandatory retirement 129–133
  - Rationale for mandatory retirement policies §13.2, 130–133
- marketing 144–146
  - Marketing a firm's authentic strengths; recruiting lawyers to a strong practice area or office §14.6, 144–146
- mobility 10–13
  - Recruiting; mobility §1.6, 10–13
- New business models for the future Chapter 2, 30–48
- offices 84, 86
  - Office leadership §6.4, 84
  - Supporting strong practice groups and offices; withdrawing support from weak ones §6.6, 86
  - Offices opened to follow clients §2.4, 34, 35
- overcapacity 41, 42
  - Why certain firms are not facing overcapacity §2.8, 41, 42
- Parental leave policies §11.4.3, 118, 119
- partners 92, 93, 97–101
  - Evaluating partners §7.3, 92, 93
  - Partners' compensation §8.3, 97–101
- Part-time and remote work §11.4.4, 119
- performance 81–86
  - Assessing firm performance Chapter 6, 81–86
  - Review of performance of a practice or an office §6.2, 81–83
- practice group 86
  - Supporting strong practice groups and offices; withdrawing support from weak ones §6.6, 86
- practice leadership 59, 60
  - Critical role of practice leadership §4.4, 59, 60
- practice management 76–78, 110
  - Practice management §5.6, 76–78
  - Practice management (administrative) §9.5, 110
- Pressure on lawyers to bill hours §1.7, 13–14
- priorities 42–45

- Establishing priorities:
  - even-handedly evaluating practices and offices §2.9, 42–45
- professional treatment 111–114
  - Encouraging positive behavior §10.2, 111–113
  - Smoothing the rough edges §10.3, 113, 114
  - Treating everyone professionally Chapter 10, 111–114
- Profitability §1.10, 18–20
- quality of life 115–121
  - Balancing professionalism and quality of life Chapter 11, 115–121
  - Maintaining a healthy non-professional life §11.2, 116
  - Respecting the individual §11.6, 120, 121
- recruiting 10–13, 144–146
  - Recruiting; mobility §1.6, 10–13
  - Marketing a firm's authentic strengths; recruiting lawyers to a strong practice area or office §14.6, 144–146
- retirement policies 129–137
  - Philosophy of retirement; prevalent attitudes §13.1, 129, 130
  - Range of attitudes re: retirement §13.3, 133–135
  - Rationale for mandatory retirement policies §13.2, 130–133
  - Retirement policies Chapter 13, 129–137
  - The importance of a retirement policy to firm strategy §13.6, 136, 137
- Rising billing rates; billing alternatives §1.5, 9, 10
- rough edges 113, 114
  - Smoothing the rough edges §10.3, 113, 114
- Shearman & Sterling 5
  - Firm Growth §1.2, 5, 6
  - size 32, 33, 37, 38, 143, 144
  - Financial disadvantage of ungainly size §2.6, 37, 38
  - Size of the law firm; economics of scale §14.5, 143, 144
  - The advantages and disadvantages of large size §2.3, 32–33
  - Social interaction and support §11.4.5, 119
  - Specialization §1.3, 7, 8
  - strategy 32, 39, 40, 51, 52, 58, 59, 65, 66, 86
  - Implementing changes in strategy §4.11, 68
  - Logically and objectively setting strategy §3.3, 51, 52
  - Presenting the firm strategically §4.12, 69
  - Setting strategy §4.3, 58, 59
  - Should the firm revise the governance structure to charge someone with setting strategy? §4.10, 67
  - Strategy for firms that need to pare back §2.7, 39, 40
  - The right strategy for the changed legal market §2.2, 32
  - Who sets the strategy? §4.8, 65, 66
- strong practice groups and offices 86
  - Supporting strong practice groups and offices; withdrawing support from weak ones §6.6, 86
- succession planning 122–128
  - Creating a firm worth preserving §12.4, 124, 125
  - Facilitating succession §12.5, 125–127
  - Succession planning Chapter 12, 122–128
  - The nature of the continuing firm §12.6, 127, 128
- support 115–121
  - Building a culture of consideration for the individual §11.3, 117, 118

- Policies to foster a sense of support from the institution §11.4, 118, 119
- Respecting the individual §11.6, 120, 121
- support staff 105–110
  - Other essential support staff §9.3, 106–109
  - Strong administrative staff Chapter 9, 105–110
- training 119, 120
  - A culture of training and mentoring §11.5, 119, 120
- value 76, 79
  - Delivery of value to clients §5.5, 76
  - Forgoing work that doesn't add value §5.9, 79
  - weak practice groups and offices 86
  - Supporting strong practice groups and offices; withdrawing support from weak ones §6.6, 86
  - Wilmer Cutler Pickering Introduction 4, 112
  - WilmerHale Introduction 4, 124, 137
  - withdrawal from partnership 135, 136
    - Managed withdrawal §13.5, 135, 136
  - withdrawing support from weak ones 86

