Acknowledgments

I would like to thank Stetson University College of Law for the Leroy Highbaugh Sr. Chair, which allowed me the time and resources to write this book; and the Brennan Center for Justice at NYU School of Law for my fellowship and for giving many of the concepts I explore in this book a first home on its influential blog.

I also thank Stetson Law librarians Kristen Moore and Sally Waters and Stetson Law research assistants who have helped me conduct research for years, including Cherilyn Blitch, Joy E. Branham, Courtney Chaipel, Kevin Crews, Michael Davids, Alex Farris, Andrew Graf, Guillermo F. De Guzman Serrano, Max Holzbaur, Christina Jimenez, Ashley Justice, Felicia Kitzmiller, Liz Harbaugh, Adam LaBonte, Christian Moriarty, Clinton Simmons, Meagan Salisbury, Carolina Suazo and Jessica Vander Velde.

Thanks to Joshua A. Douglas, Kitt Hirasaki, Catherine Cooper Lipp and Glynn Torres-Spelliscy, for their editorial feedback. I also wish to thank the following people who took time to be interviewed: Kristina Alexander, Jared Bernstein, Atiba Ellis, Lisa Gilbert, Jason Gottlieb, Samuel Issacharoff, Pamela Karlan, Alyssa Katz, Liz Kennedy, Maria Teresa Kumar, Celinda Lake, Ian Millhiser, Burt Neuborne, Jonathan Salant, Ryan Spelliscy, Jennifer Taub, Franita Tolson, Mark Tushnet and Michael Waldman.

I want to thank everyone who talked to me for this book off the record as well. Finally, thank you to my husband, my son and my labradoodle, who all put up with the late nights and travel with good cheer.
