I wish to thank Franklin Serrano for many discussions on the contents of this book. Some friends read single chapters or sections of the book providing precious comments: Sergio Nisticò, Antonella Stirati, Fabio Petri, Antonia Capus, Sergio Leverero, Aldo Barba, Duncan Foley. An earlier draft of the manuscript was read and commented by Dr Prue Kerr in 2002, when she was visiting the Centro Sraffa in Rome.

The book reflects six years of research on pensions and so, in the meanwhile, some related materials have been published in Studi Economici (71, 2000), Rivista di politica economica (91, 2001), Politica economica (17, 2001), Review of Political Economy (14, 2002); or are forthcoming in the Cambridge Journal of Economics and the Journal of Income Distribution.

Many pages of the book show my intellectual debt to Prof. Pierangelo Garegnani. I feel deep gratitude to Prof. Augusto Graziani for his advice and encouragement in my academic ups and downs during the years in which this book was written.

I gratefully acknowledge the financial support from the Ministry of Education, University and Research (Cofin 1999 and 2001) and of the University of Siena (PAR 2002).

The book is dedicated to those I love most, Antonella, Martino and Daniele, and loved most, my parents.