

Tables

1.1	Public private partnerships in Europe	3
1.2	Public private partnerships in the United States	8
2.1	Classification of infrastructure by type	21
3.1	Range of public/private business models	54
3.2	An illustrative project partnering agreement	68
4.1	Differences between actual and estimated costs in large public works transport projects	73
4.2	Estimates of average 'optimism bias' for conventional public procurement in the UK, by type of projects	74
4.3	Construction performance of PFI and conventional projects	81
4.4	Major stages in a PPP contract	85
4.5	A framework for assessing public private partnerships	88
5.1	Options for private participation in hospitals	97
5.2	Range of partnership models	103
5.3	Financing arrangements for the Bridgend and Fazakerley prison projects	119
6.1	Key features of the West Middlesex University Hospital project	164
6.2	Value-for-money test for the West Middlesex University Hospital Project	166
7.1	Risk matrix for public sector/private sector infrastructure investments	180
7.2	Risk allocation in a PPP prison project	184
7.3	Procurer: interest rate sensitivity	189
7.4	Procurer: inflation sensitivity	190
7.5	Sponsors: equity/subordinated debt risk analysis	191
7.6	Senior lenders: robustness analysis of cashflows	193
8.1	Dispute resolution techniques	199
8.2	Business analysis	208
8.3	Assessment of cashflows	210
8.4	Risk analysis	211
8.5	Measures of organizational 'health'	213
8.6	Indicators of service performance	216
9.1	Key 'drivers' and 'enablers' for PPPs	234
9.2	Alternative approaches to private sector involvement in water and sewerage	239