

List of figures

---

|      |   |     |
|------|---|-----|
| 3.1  | Adequate types of rationality in the business firm  | 30  |
| 3.2  | Strategic alternatives to deal with the strained relations between morals and profit  | 33  |
| 6.1  | Trust and relationship effectiveness (Model C)  | 79  |
| 6.2  | Trust and relationship effectiveness (Model E)  | 80  |
| 9.1  | Model as practised  | 114 |
| 9.2  | New 'employment policy': process involving management and employees   | 118 |
| 14.1 | Stakeholder pressures for environmental management  | 189 |
| 14.2 | Intensity of various stakeholder pressures for environmental management   | 202 |
| 15.1 | Siemens' Corporate Principles   | 211 |
| 16.1 | Sequence of the GE value implementation process   | 224 |
| 16.2 | Results   | 228 |
| 16.3 | Sequence of the SIEMENS value implementation process  | 232 |
| 16.4 | Meaning of ethics in organizations  | 237 |
| 16.5 | Difference of value adjustment  | 238 |
| 16.6 | Strategic managerial structure and value management   | 240 |
| 20.1 | People on higher business organizational levels score higher on autonomy and business people score higher than non-business people  | 298 |
| 20.2 | Training promotes the acquisition of autonomy in different professions  | 301 |
| 20.3 | Participants experience of the positive effect of training on ethical awareness, own skill to solve ethical problems, organizational function, argumentation skills, and ethical confidence | 302 |