

Acknowledgements

The Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation has provided the major funding for the project that led to this second volume of the Handbook of Human Resource Management Policies and Practices, as it did for the first. We also appreciate the support from the Human Resources Development Working Group (HRDWG) and its networks in their commitment to extend the project to cover all 21 APEC members. In particular, we wish to acknowledge the assistance of Ms Megawati Manan (Department of Foreign Affairs, Brunei Darussalam), Mr Fadilah Shaikh Ahmad (formerly Director of Programs (HRDWG), now with the Department of Foreign Affairs, Brunei Darussalam) and Ms Suriana Sulaiman (Director of Programs (HRDWG) in APEC Secretariat).

We would also like to acknowledge the support provided by the University of Wollongong, in particular, the International Business Research Institute, the Labour Market and Human Resources Research group, the Faculty of Commerce Research Committee, the Department of Management and our friends in the research office.

Naturally, we offer a big thank-you to our 16 co-authors for their efforts and their contributions. This kind of work involves a significant amount of cooperation through e-mail, phones and occasional visits – we made it. We are also grateful to the 22 industry editorial advisors for helping the authors in the 11 economies in finalization of their profiles.

Paul Campani and Lynne Read have worked patiently and tirelessly on correcting, laying out and reworking the various pieces into their current shape, as they did with Volume 1. Francine and Alison have been so helpful and supportive. We thank you.

Our partners and families, as ever, have given more support, understanding, space and patience than they can know, and for which we are deeply grateful.

Finally, every effort has been made to trace all the copyright holders, but if any have been inadvertently overlooked, the publishers will be pleased to make the necessary arrangements at the first opportunity.