

Tables

---

2.1	The relative size of federal and state–local government, 2000	10
2.2	Variation in per capita state–local general expenditure, 1982–1998	14
3.1	Calendar year administration and Congressional Budget Office (CBO) forecasts of key economic indicators 2001–2007	36
3.2	Composition of BEA personal income (2001, billions of dollars)	37
3.3	Actual average annual growth in real per capita personal income (in per cent) 1970–1980 to 1995–2000	37
3.4	Growth in total US population, 1979–1999	42
3.5	Population projections by region (in thousands), 1995–2020	42
3.6	Age distribution of US population (in thousands), 2000–2020	43
3.7	Average annual growth in age distribution of the population by region, 1995–2010 to 2010–2025	46
3.8	Composition of US employment (per cent of total employment), 1970–2000	47
3.9	Summary of economic and demographic impacts on state and local budgets	50
5.1	Tax and expenditure limitations currently imposed statewide on local governments (original year of imposition/ amendment)	135
5.2	Summary of state imposed limitations on local governments – number of states by characteristic	102
5.3	Regional distribution of local government tax and expenditure limitations (number/per cent of states with limitation)	104
5.4	State level tax, revenue and expenditure limitations	146
5.5	Distribution of state revenue and expenditure limitations across regions	107
5.6	Property tax classification, effective tax rates, residential exemptions and circuit breakers	150
5.7	Relative reliance on property taxes by states, 1972 and 1999	152
6.1	Cost of major forms of aid to state and local governments, 2000	165

7.1	Where we stand: State DMV use of the internet/ e-government, 1999–2000	188
7.2	Where we stand: Internet usage by local governments in the US, responses from two surveys	190
7.3	Where we stand: Barriers to e-government for local communities in the US, responses from two surveys	192
7.4	Per cent of US households with a computer and internet access, 2000	196
7.5	Leigh and Atkinson (2001) multiple regression results: household internet access, 2000	197
7.6	Penetration rates of new technologies	199
7.7	Taxes on intermediate goods as a per cent of gross receipts by industry, 1992	206
8.1	Overview of approaches to the fiscal challenge	229
8.2	Fiscal stress index: Selected states	235
8.A1	Important characteristics of states	268
8.A2	Derivation of fiscal stress index for selected states	271
9.1	World trade and taxes, 1960–1995	278
9.2	Changing importance of major state and local taxes in the United States, 1902–1992	280
9.3	State and local taxes in the United States, 1980 and 1995	281
9.4	Average effective tax rates on consumption and on factor incomes, country averages, 1970–1990	282
9.5	State tax rates, 1999	292
9.6	Tax base responses for immobile versus mobile factors	295
10.1	Percentage change in density, 1982–1997	301
10.2	Percentage change in urbanized land and population, 1982–1997	301
10.3	Population, land area, and population density of the 20 largest urbanized areas, 1960–1990	302