

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
1 Introduction Richard Arena and Agnès Festré	1
PART I KNOWLEDGE AND BELIEFS IN THE HISTORY OF ECONOMIC ANALYSIS: MARSHALLIANS, AUSTRIANS AND WALRASIAN
2 Expectations, uncertainty and beliefs in Marshallian and post-Marshallian analyses of economic systems Brian J. Loasby	11
3 Knowledge and beliefs in economics: the case of the Austrian tradition Richard Arena and Agnès Festré	35
4 General equilibrium, co-ordination and multiplicity on spot markets Roger Guesnerie	59
PART II KNOWLEDGE AND BELIEFS IN GAME THEORY
5 Justifications of game theoretic equilibrium notions Bernard Walliser	83
6 Game theory and players' beliefs on the play Christian Schmidt	107
PART III BELIEFS AND DECISION THEORY
7 Beliefs and dynamic consistency Jean-Marc Tallon and Jean-Christophe Vergnaud	137
8 Utility or rationality? Restricted or general rationality? Raymond Boudon	155

PART IV KNOWLEDGE, BELIEFS AND COGNITIVE ECONOMICS

- 9 The cognitive turning point in economics: social beliefs and conventions 181
André Orléan
- 10 A cognitive approach to individual learning: some experimental results 203
Marco Novarese and Salvatore Rizzello

PART V AGENTS, COMMUNITIES AND COLLECTIVE BELIEFS

- 11 Consumer communities, self-organization and beliefs 223
Stéphane Ngo-Mai and Alain Raybaut
- 12 Informal communication, collective beliefs and corporate culture: a conception of the organization as a 'community of communities' 239
Patrick Cohendet and Morad Diani

Index 267