

Preface

The content of this book is the result of the Analytical Strategic Environmental Assessment project (ANSEA), financed under the Fifth Framework Research Programme of the European Union, started in March 2000 and concluded in 2002. Given the nature of the project, all participants recognize a unique common authorship of the project's result published here. Project participants were:

- TAU Consultora Ambiental (TAU). Madrid, Spain. Leading Partner. Rodrigo Jiliberto, Manuel Alvarez-Arenas, Mercedes García, Cesar Cuevas.
- Environmental Resources Management (ERM). London, UK. Anna McGillivray, Olivia Bina.
- Fondazione Eni Enrico Mattei (FEEM). Milan, Italy. Pietro Caratti, Marialuisa Tamborra, Riccardo Tarquini.
- Foundation of the Faculty of Sciences and Technology of the New University of Lisbon (FFCT). Lisbon, Portugal. Maria do Rosário Partidário, Gustavo Vicente.
- Universidad Politécnica de Madrid, Escuela Técnica Superior de Ingenieros de Montes (UPM). Madrid, Spain. Rafael Escribano, Santiago González, Fernando Garrote, Livia Ramos.
- International Institute for the Urban Environment (IIUE). Delft, The Netherlands. Tjeerd Delstra, Joanneke Kruijssen.
- Stockholm Environment Institute (SEI). Stockholm, Sweden. Måns Nilsson, Gary Haq, Åsa Persson.
- Wuppertal Institute (WI). Wuppertal, Germany. Holger Dalkmann, Rudolf Petersen, Daniel Bongardt.

A Scientific Board and an Advisory Board monitored the research progress and gave advice throughout the project. Members of the Scientific Board were: Bo Elling, Roskilde University and Wil Thissen, University of Delft. Members of the Advisory Board were: Jiri Dusik, Regional Environmental Center for Central Eastern Europe (CEE); Francisco Tapia Granados, Environmental Agency of Andalucía; Tuija Hilding-Rydevik, Nordregio; Gert Johansen, Danish Ministry of Environment and Energy; Mikael Hildén, Finnish Environment Institute; Riki Therivel, Oxford Brookes University, and Marc van Dreunel, Dutch Ministry of Environment.

Pietro Caratti, Holger Dalkmann and Rodrigo Jiliberto - 9781845421533

Downloaded from Elgar Online at 09/17/2019 03:17:20PM

For further information contact the editors:

Pietro Caratti:	pietro.caratti@feem.it
Holger Dalkmann:	holger.dalkmann@wupperinst.org
Rodrigo Jiliberto:	rjiliberto@taugroup.com