

Tables

3.1	Danish DMI by final demand 1997	41
3.2	Market types and life expectancy	43
3.3	Where households can make a difference	50
5.1	A categorization of needs/satisfiers according to Max-Neef	87
5.2	A categorization of feelings according to the typology of needs	89
6.1	Three positions compared	120
7.1	Percentage of electric light in home from CFLs (low-energy bulbs) correlated with electricity consumption	136
7.2	Low-energy-consuming refrigerator-freezer in home correlated with electricity consumption	137
7.3	Ownership of tumble dryer correlated with electricity consumption	138
7.4	Weekly tumble dryer use correlated with electricity consumption	138
8.1	Suggested activity categories for combining household expenditure and time use data	160
11.1	Psycho-social modes	220
12.1	Contribution by factors of production to economic growth, Denmark 1960–99	240
12.2	Labour and energy per million DKR value-added in different production sectors, Denmark 1990	242