

Index

- Abbeglen, J.C. 26, 93–4
Abernathy, W.J. 189
Abramovitz, M. 35, 36
administrative structure, US conglomerates 22–3 agents, SSIP 145
agriculture, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
American Society for Quality 217
Andersen, E.S. 55
Antonelli, C. 56, 58
apparel, sectoral growth
 Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 200
 USA
 1960s to end of 20th century 200
 end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
arm's length transactions 141
Arora, A.A. 179 assembly line, semi-automatic 76 asset advantages, TNCs 139 asset specificity 70
AT&T 134, 213
atomic/systemic model, of growth 141–7 auto sector atomic model of growth 143–4 productivity differences 57
 USA and Japan
 sectoral growth, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183 technical innovations 193–4
automation 26–7

Babbage, C. 78–9
bandwagon effect 136, 137
behavioural decision theories 122
Best, M.H. 25, 29
beverages, real output, USA and Japan (1963–96) 200

big business appearance of USA 13–15
 characteristics 81
 vertical integration 69–73
bio-socio-economic processes, firm operations 112–31
black box 40, 70, 112; see also PROSIBB
Bose Corporation 213 bounded rationality 42–3, 70
Bouttes, J.P. 41
Breschi, S. 52
Bresnahan, T.F. 56
Brown, M. 47
Brox, J.A. 253

capabilities, see networking capabilities; organizational capabilities capital budgeting 24 cars, see auto sector catching up efforts
 Japanese society 82
 quality movement, USA 218
Caves, R.E. 27
Celler Kefauver Act (1950) 22
Chandler, A.D. Jr 22, 23–4, 38, 42, 51–2, 72, 134–5, 275 change in technique 35 chemicals, sectoral growth
 Japan
 1960s to end of 20th century 167, 180, 182, 183, 206
 end of 19th century to World War II 162, 164
 USA
 1960s to end of 20th century 167, 180, 182, 183, 206
 end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
Cheung, S.N.S. 41
Clark, J. 103

- classical views, organizational theory of the firm 36
- clay, sectoral growth
 Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
 USA
 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
 end of 19th century to World War II 155, 156, 159, 160
- closed systems 122
- clusters 99–100, 139
- coal, sectoral growth
 Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 201
 USA, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 201
- Coase, R.H. 40–41
- Cole, R.E. 215–18
- collective capitalism 38
- collective performance bonuses 104
- competence-based view of the firm 71
- competences, see firm competences
- competition industrial districts 100
see also new competition
- complete contracts 42
- conglomerates
 Japan 18–19
 USA 22–5
- construction, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- contemporary views, organizational theory of the firm 36
- contingency theory, management 189
- continuous casting, Japan 192
- continuous improvement 29–30, 44, 85, 88, 93
- continuous incremental progress 93
- contract innovation 129
- contracts, coordination, inside firms 42
- cooperation
 Japanese society 27
 networking 96–100
- coordinating ability 127
- coordination issue, inside firms 41–2
- Coriat, B. 104, 105
- cost reduction, JIT/QC 91
- cost systems, Japan 27–8
- The Cost of Manufactures and the Administration of Workshops, Public and Private* 16
- craft control 17
- craftsmen, conversion to supervisors 17
- creative destruction 42, 43, 78, 132, 143
- Davenport, T.H. 55
- Dawson, P. 56
- decision innovations 129
- Dell Computer Corporation 134, 138, 196–8, 219
- Deming, W.E. 28–9, 44
- Demsetz, H. 70
- Dicken, P. 96, 140
- Dietrich, M. 95
- diffusion of innovations 131–41
- discontinuous dramatic innovations 93
- disembodied technology 4, 46–8
- disintegration 72, 196
- diversification
 development of zaibatsus 18
 Japan 28
 M-form structure 73
 USA
 after World War II 22–5
 before World War II 14
- division of labour 43
 according to TFS 78–9
 factory system 68
 putting-out system 67
- domestic production system, USA 67–8
- Dosi, G. 104, 105
- DuPont 23, 134
- dynamic disequilibrium 135
- early retirement, Japan 188
- economic activities 1
- economic concepts, link between OIs and relevant 39–46
- The Economic Control of Quality of Manufactured Product* 28
- economic downfall, Japan (1986–97) 184–91
- economic environment, origin of networks 98
- economic growth
 firm operations 111–49
 atomic/systemic model 141–7
 leading firms, leading sectors and diffusion of OIs 131–41

- system of four bio-socio economic processes 112–31
- firm organization, USA 67–80
- implementing JIT/QC process 91–6
- OIs
 - impact of 6
 - inclusion in production function 57–62
 - links between PROSIBB AND 127–31
 - literature review 34–46
 - research
 - implications and recommendations 284–6
 - limitations, omissions and future 277–84
 - synthesis of major conclusions 271–7
 - three axes of 101–8
 - technology 46–57
 - USA and Japan 4
- economic relations, in networks 97
- economic theories, Taylorist-Fordism system 76–9
- economies of scale 18, 38
- economies of scope 18, 19, 38, 73
- economy (US)
 - consolidation (1880–1920) 15
 - supremacy of 22
- Edquist, C. 58–9
- Ehrnberg, E. 55
- electrical and electronic industries, TIs, USA and Japan 194–6
- electrical machinery, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 168, 173, 180, 182, 183
- oligopolies 136
- USA
 - 1950s to end of 20th century 168
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
 - end of 19th century to World War II 155, 156, 159, 160
- embodied technology 4, 46–8
- employment
 - females and foreigners, Japan 188
 - and innovation 58
 - transfers, Japan 188
- enterprise groups, Japan 27
- entrepreneurs, and economic growth 42
- entrepreneurship, and OIs 5, 39
- evolutionary learning capability 124–5
- evolutionary process, economic growth 40
- evolutionary theory
 - of the firm 71, 82
 - systems of innovation 145
- Evolutionary Theory of Economic Change, An* 42
- expansion, US manufacturing 153–7
- external economies 34
- fabricated metals, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 181, 182, 183, 203
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 203
 - end of 19th century to World War II 155, 156, 159, 160
- fabricated textiles, sectoral growth
 - USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- factory system 67, 68–9, 81
- Fader, C. 253
- Federal Reserve Bank of Boston 37
- female employment, Japan 188
- finance, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- Finucane, M. 122
- firm boundaries, within networks 138
- firm competences
 - economic growth 43, 44
 - PROSIBB 116
- firm diversity 35–6
- firm evolution
 - transaction cost theory 40–48
 - USA/Japan comparison 30–31
- firm networks, cooperation between, Japan 27
- firm operations
 - economic growth 111–49
 - atomic/systemic model 141–7
 - bio-socio economic processes 112–31
 - leading firms, leading sectors and diffusion of OIs 131–41
- firm organization
 - economic growth, USA 67–80
 - industrial growth, Japan 80–100
- five-dollar day wage 104

- flexible manufacturing systems
 Japan 85
 TIs related to 50–51
- flexible production, negative side of 96
- flexible specialization 24–5, 103
- flow scheduling technique 87–8
- focal factories 82, 83
- focal firms, Japan 19–21
- focus technique 87
- food, sectoral growth
 Japan
 1960s to end of 20th century 180,
 182, 183, 200
 end of 19th century to World War II
 156, 162, 163
 USA
 1960s to end of 20th century 180,
 182, 183, 200
 end of 19th century to World War II
 154, 159, 160
- footwear, real output, USA and Japan
 (1963–96) 201
- Ford Motor Company 134
- Fordism
 after World War II 24–5
 characteristics 81
 economic growth 44, 73–9
 rise of 15–17
see also neo-Fordism; post-Fordism;
 scientific management cum
 Fordism
- foreign technology, Japanese importing of 191
- foreigners, employment of, Japan 188
- forestry, sectoral growth, Japan 162, 163
- Fruin, M.W. 20, 42
- Fujimoto, T. 55–6, 85, 86, 101, 188–9
- full integration, USA 13–15
- ‘full line’ strategy 14
- furniture, sectoral growth
 Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century
 180, 182, 183, 202
 USA
 1960s to end of 20th century 180,
 182, 183, 202
 end of 19th century to World War II
 154, 156, 159, 160
- gain-sharing system 16
- Gamble, G.E. 196–7
- Gantt, H. 84
- gemba* 91
- General Electric 23, 134
- George, C.S. Jr 74–5
- glass, sectoral growth
 Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century
 203
 USA
 1960s to end of 20th century 203
 end of 19th century to World War II
 155, 156, 159, 160
- globalization
 diffusion of OIs 139–41
 Japanese firms 190
- Goto, A. 192, 194–5
- gross domestic product, USA and Japan
 3
- group-orientism, Japanese society 27
- growth poles 135–6
- Hamamdjian, P. 41
- Hanaoka, M. 188
- Harbison, F. 274
- Harrison, A. 86, 89
- Hewlett-Packard 195
- Heydebrand, W.V. 116
- hierarchies, big business, USA 15
- high-fixed-cost strategy 38
- higher education, USA 17
- Hill, C.W.L. 73
- Hirschman, A.O. 45
- Honda 139
- Horndal effect 50
- human being metaphor, PROSIBB
 121–2
- Hunt, S.D. 36–7
- IBM 134, 136, 196, 213
- Idea Suggestion System 86
- idiosyncratic organizational assets 96
- Imai, K. 27
- imitation process 25, 138, 140
- industrial clusters 99–100, 139
- industrial growth
 firm organization, Japan 80–100
 OIs
 impact of 38
 summary of role of 80
 USA and Japan 6

- USA
 - appearance of big business 13–15
 - lean production system 210–64
- industrial organization 1
- industrial revolution 69; see also Second Industrial Revolution
- inefficiencies, just-in-case system 95
- information technology 24
 - JIT/QC 219
- inside contracting system 15–16, 74
 - disappearance of 16–17
 - Japan 66
- institution costs 41
- institutional change, transaction costs 41
- integrated circuits 195
- integration, see disintegration; vertical integration
- Intel 136, 195, 213
- interchangeable parts 69–70
- interfirm networks, Japan 19–21
- internal disorder, production processes 15
- internal economies 34
- internal resources, economic growth 43
- International Motor Vehicle Program 87
- Internet, Japan 190
- inventories, minimal 196–7
- inventory levels, factors determining 220
- inventory reduction, JIT/QC, quantitative evidence 88, 218–57
- iron and steel
 - USA and Japan
 - real output, (1963–96) 203
 - technical innovations 192–3
- Ito, T. 189–90
- Jakobson, S. 55
- Japan
 - examples of leading firms 133
 - firm evolution, comparison with USA 30–31
 - firm organization, industrial growth 80–100
 - gross domestic product 3
 - growth rates 4
 - OIs
 - after World War II 25–30
 - comparison with USA
 - evolution of 30–31
 - impact of 6
 - inside contracting system 66
 - manufacturing sector
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 166–98
 - end of 19th century to World War II 161–6
 - and TIs, non-parallel development 50
 - up to World War II 18–21
 - scientific management cum Fordism v. JIT/QC 101–6
 - Japanese National Railways 83–4
 - Japanese society, cooperation in 27
 - Japanese Union of Scientists and Engineers 28, 214
 - Juran, J.M. 44
 - just-in-case system 95
 - just-in-time system 25–8
 - basic description 85–8
 - Dell CC 196–7
 - economic growth 44
 - implementation of 212–14
 - just-in-time/quality control
 - auto sector, Japan 144
 - benefits from implementing 91–6
 - as a case of system emergence 125
 - continuous improvement 88
 - inventory reduction 88
 - links with other organizational issues 88–90
 - networks 99
 - origins in scientific management 84
 - process of movement 130
 - productivity and economic growth 53
 - three elements 87
 - USA 210–64
 - conclusions 252–7
 - implementation 212–18
 - quantitative evidence
 - 85-sector database, USA (1987–96) 260–62
 - basic data for the 28-ISIC sectors in USA 258–9
 - cross-sector analysis regarding TFP 230–39
 - pooled 28-sector analysis for TFP and JIT/QC 239–41
 - preliminary issues 218–23

- productivity issue and OIs proxy variables 223–30
- stationary long-term coefficients and vectors V 263–4
- transformation of 459-sector data to 85-sector and 28-sector data 257
- two-stage least squares regression analysis 241–2
- vector error correction model 242–52
- versus scientific management cum Fordism 101–6
- just-in-time/quality management, Japanese economic growth 187
- kaizen* 29–30, 84, 86, 91, 215
- kanban* cards 88
- Kanban* system 84, 86
- Kano, N. 215
- Kash, D.E. 55
- Kawasaki Steel 192
- keiretsus*
 - just-in-time system 89–90
 - loosening of 190
- Kilby 78
- kinetic costs 115
- kinetic energy 121
- kinetic innovations 129
- Kirchhoff, B.A. 39
- knowledge
 - Japanese adoption of Western 20–21
 - see also* new knowledge
- Kogut, B. 56, 158
- Krajewski, L.J. 94
- kyoryokukai* 27
- labour productivity, LPD 221
- Langlois, R.N. 43, 44, 52, 68
- layout effect, of plants 115
- Lazonick, W. 16, 38–9, 42, 50, 51–2, 66, 140
- leading firms 131–5
- leading sectors
 - atomic model of growth 143
 - diffusion of OIs 135–7
 - economic growth 44–6
 - importance of, Japan 189–90
 - oligopolistic structure, USA 14–15
- lean production system 84
 - definition 87
 - differences between Fordism and 101–3
 - distinction between SM and 103–4
 - higher productivity 92
 - link between industrial growth and 210–64
 - negative externalities 96
 - see also* just-in-time/quality control
- leather, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 201
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 201
 - end of 19th century to World War II 155, 156, 159, 160
- lifetime employment, Japan 188
- Lillrark, P. 39
- Lincoln, J.R. 190
- Little, C.R. 17
- LSI technology 195
- lumber, see wood products
- Lundvall, B.A. 55
- M-form structure, US firms 23, 72, 73
- The Machine that Changed the World* 210
- machine tools, development of specialized 17
- machinery, sectoral growth
 - Japan, end of 19th century to World War II 162, 164
 - see also* electrical machinery; non-electrical machinery
- machines, flexible and programmable 24
- McLoughlin, I. 103
- McNulty 36–7
- MacroMed 219
- Maddison, A. 34–5
- Malerba, F. 52, 55, 56
- management
 - contingency theory 189
 - hybrid model, Japan 190–91
 - impact of JIT/QC 89
 - practices, economic growth 57–8 and technical innovations 50
- management by eyes 104
- managerial ability, economic growth 43
- managerial capitalism 16, 38

- managers, separation between top and middle 24
- manufacturing management, impact of JIT/QC on 89
- manufacturing sectors
Japan
1960s to end of 20th century
166–98
end of 19th century to World War II 161–6
three-digit basis with code numbers
207
USA
1960s to end of 20th century
166–98
end of 19th century to World War II
153–60
JIT/QC, see just-in-time/quality control rise of big business 13–15
salaried employees (1890–1920s)
17
- market expansion, division of labour and productivity 79
- Marshall, A. 34
- mass production 13
characteristics 81
OIs, TIs and development of 51 semi-automatic assembly line 76
- Matsushita 86
- Mazda 26
- measurement issues, PROSIBB 125–7
- Mefford, R.N. 57
- mergers and acquisitions, USA, after World War II 23
- metals, sectoral growth
Japan, end of 19th century to World War II 162, 164
see also fabricated metals; non-ferrous metals; primary metals
- Metcalf, H.C. 16
- micro basis, national economies 146
- microeconomic nature, Japanese failures 187
- microprocessors 195
- Milech, D. 122
- mining, sectoral growth, USA and Japan
180, 182, 183
- Mitsui & Co. 20
- monopolistic situations 132, 136
- motor vehicles, see auto sector
- Mowery, D.C. 49
- Mroczkowski, T. 188
- muda* 91
- multi-path system emergence 124–5
- multidivisionalism
Japan 28
USA 22–5, 72–3
- national economies, micro basis 146
- negative externalities, JIT/QC 96
- negentropy of OIs 53
PROSIBB 122–5
- Nelson, R.R. 35–6, 42, 50, 71
- neo-Fordism 25, 103
- neoclassical theory 70
- networking, role of, Japan 96–100
- networking capabilities, TNCs 141
- networks
diffusion of OIs 138–9, 141
USA 24
see also interfirm networks; keiretsus;
subcontracting; zaibatsus
- new competition 25–6, 92
- new knowledge 35
- new quality paradigm 216
- Nissan 193
- NKK 193
- non-electrical machinery, sectoral growth
Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century
166, 180, 182, 183, 204
USA
1960s to end of 20th century 180,
182, 183, 204
end of 19th century to World War II
155, 156, 159, 160
- non-ferrous metal production, USA and Japan 171, 172, 173
- non-metal minerals, real output, USA and Japan (1963–96) 204
- North, D.C. 41, 68
- obligational contracting 98–9
- Odagiri, H. 192, 194–5
- Ohno, T. 84, 85, 86, 87, 104
- oil price shocks, slow down of growth, Japan 173
- old quality paradigm 216

- oligopolies 14–15, 132, 136
- open negentropic system, PROSIBB as 122–5
- open systems 122
- operational benefits, JIT 94
- opportunism 70
- opportunity costs, of the PROSIBB 117–20
- Oregon Cutting Systems 212
- organizational capabilities
 - economic growth 6, 58
 - Japan 188–9
 - link between OIs and TIs 51–2
 - multi-path system emergence 124–5
 - PROSIBB 116
 - routines 71
- organizational entity, defined 1–3
- organizational innovations
 - defined 3
 - diffusion of
 - globalization 139–41
 - leading sectors 135–7
 - networks 138–9
 - economic growth
 - evidence of impact on 6
 - inclusion in production function 57–62
 - links between PROSIBB and 127–31
 - literature review 34–46
 - research
 - implications and recommendations 284–6
 - limitations, omissions and future 277–84
 - synthesis of major conclusions 271–7
 - three axes of 101–8
- illustration of importance 4–5
- impact of, US/Japan comparison 6
- Japan
 - after World War II 25–30
 - up to World War II 18–21
- list of major 2
- manufacturing sectors 152–207
 - USA and Japan
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 166–98
 - end of 19th century to World War II 153–66
 - and TIs
 - comparison between 5
 - links between 50–57
 - non-contemporaneous impact of 48–50
 - relationship between 3–4
 - USA
 - after World War II 22–5
 - up to World War II 12–17
- organizational pyramids 89
- organizational structures
 - Japan 187
 - USA 23, 72–3
 - see also* M-form structure; U-form structure; vertical integration
- organizational success perspective 38–9
- organizational theory, classical and contemporary views 36
- organosis 287
- Orsenigo, L. 55
- output growth 59–60
- outsourcing, Japan 20
- oxygen furnaces, Japan 192
- paper, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 204, 205
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 204, 205
 - end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
- Penrose, E.T. 43
- performance-based evaluation, Japan 188
- Perry, M. 98–9, 100
- personal computer industry 196–8
- Peters, E.E. 47–8
- petroleum, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 201, 206
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 201, 206
 - end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
- physical energies metaphor 121
- Piore, M.J. 103
- plastic, real output, USA and Japan (1963–96) 202
- Plato 78

- poles of growth 135–6
- Porter, M.E. 37, 99, 187, 276
- post-Fordism 25, 103
- pottery, real output, USA and Japan (1963–96) 203
- precision instruments, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- preparedness 125
- primary metals, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
 - end of 19th century to World War II 155, 156, 159, 160
- Principles of Economics* 34
- printing, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 205
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 205
 - end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
- probability tree, PROSIBB as 120–21
- process analysis 125–6
- process of contracts, see PROSIBB
- process efficiency 26
- process innovation 35
- process of movements, see PROSIBB
- process re-engineering 126
- process of strategies, see PROSIBB
- process of wisdom, see PROSIBB
- process(es) of inputs of the system of the black box, see PROSIBB
- production, standardization of 76
- production function, inclusion of OIs in 57–62
- production organization
 - Japan 26
 - presence of TIs and OIs 50
- production possibility system, and the TFS 77–8
- productivity
 - division of labour 78–9
 - lean production system 92
 - management practices 89
 - market expansion and division of labour 79
 - measuring impact of organizational change on 125–6
 - OIs as determinant of change in 36
 - quality control 44
 - productivity leaders 139–40
 - professional equipment, real output, USA and Japan (1963–96) 205
 - project contracts 42
 - PROSIBB 113
 - as an open negentropic system 122–5
 - atomic theory of growth 145–6
 - diffusion of OIs through globalization 141
 - four processes 114–17
 - measurement of 125–7
 - mutual exclusiveness and interdependence 120–22
 - growth, innovations and OIs 127–31
 - opportunity costs of 117–20
 - publications, diffusion of OIs 139
 - publishing, sectoral growth, USA and Japan (1963–96) 205
 - putting-out system 67–8
- QC Circle Magazine* 214
- quality, as a learning process 215
- quality control
 - benefits of 92–3
 - implementation of 214–18
 - Japan 28–30, 86
 - productivity 44
 - quality control circles 28, 92–3, 129, 193, 214–15
 - quality movement, in USA 215–18
 - quality paradigms 215–16
 - quality products
 - Japan 28–30, 181, 214
 - JIT 92
- railway system
 - development, USA 13
 - Japanese national 83–4
- rational economic man 43
- rationalization 76, 157
- real output, USA and Japan
 - end of 19th century to World War II 153–66
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 166–79
 - three-digit SIC sectors (1963–96) 200–206

- relational team 95
- Renault 193
- Republic* 78
- research and development
 - economic growth 135–6
 - OIs necessary for efficient use of 51
- residual rights 41, 42
- resource-advantage (R-A) theory 36–7
- reverse engineering 125–6
- rewards, Japanese industry 188
- Ritzman, L.P. 94
- Robertson, P.L. 52
- Rootes 193
- Rosenberg, N. 37, 49
- Rostow, W.W. 44–5, 136–7
- routines, and capabilities 71
- routinized learning capability 124
- routinized manufacturing capability 124
- rubber, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 202
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 202
 - end of 19th century to World War II 155, 156, 159, 160
- Rycroft, R.W. 55
- Sabel, C.F. 103
- Schonberger, R.J. 85, 212
- Schumpeter, J.A. 34–5, 42
- Schumpeter Mark II model 53–5
- scientific management
 - characteristics 81
 - as disembodied change 48
 - economic growth 44, 73–9
 - Japan 82–4
 - productivity 157
 - rise of 15–17
- scientific management cum Fordism, versus JIT/QC 101–6
- Second Industrial Revolution 12, 13, 19, 38, 39
- The Secret of Saving Lost Motion* 82–3
- sectoral innovation systems, technological regimes 52–3
- sectoral systems of innovation and production 145
- self-regulation, of open systems 123
- semiconductor industry 195
 - OIs and economic growth 4–5, 173
- services, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- shared network norms 27
- Sharp 195
- shock-absorbing function, subcontracting firms 141
- shop floor operations
 - Dell CC 197–8
 - economic development 39
 - inside contracting system 16
 - scientific management 105
 - skilled workers 16
- short production runs 26
- Simon, H.A. 57
- skilled workers, as lower managers 16
- smart production systems 13
- smart workers 13
- Smith, A. 78
- social relations, interorganizational networks 97
- social values, change in, Japan 188
- society
 - and the PROSIBB 123
 - see also* Japanese society
- Solow, R. 47
- Sony 133–4, 194–5
- speciality production 12–13, 17
- specialization
 - flexible 24–5, 103
 - networking 98
 - TCs as a proportion of gains from 43
- spillover effect, industrial districts 100
- Stalk, G. Jr 26, 93–4
- Standard Oil Trust 14
- standardization 76, 85
- standards, as institutions 76–7
- stock market 123
- stone industry, sectoral growth
 - Japan
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
 - end of 19th century to World War II 162, 163
 - USA, 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183
- strategic costs 115
- strategic innovations 129
- Strategy and Structure* 23

- subcontracting
 - Japan 21, 27, 66, 190
 - obligational nature 98–9
 - USA 24
- subcontracting firms 141
- suggestion system 86, 93
- synkinesis 121
- Systematic Management 15
- systems of innovation 144–5

- tacit skills, development of 103
- Takeuchi, H. 187
- tangible inputs of production 115, 117, 118, 120, 122
- Taurus project 51
- Taylor, F.W. 16, 44, 74, 83
- Taylor Society 74, 83
- Taylor system 15
- Taylorism 157
- Taylorist-Fordism system, economic theories 76–9
- technical progress 35
- techno-economic paradigm 59
- technological change 35
- technological innovations
 - big business and vertical integration 69
 - economic growth 5
 - factory system 68
 - Japan, since World War II 191–8
 - leading firms 133–4
 - and OIs
 - distinction between 5, 46–8
 - links between 50–57
 - non-contemporaneous impact of 48–50
 - relationship between 3–4
 - PROSIBB 116, 128
 - shaping of economies and histories 37
 - USA
 - before World War II 17
 - since World War II 191–8
- technological regimes
 - links with OIs 54
 - sectoral innovation systems 52–3
- technology
 - adoption, Japan 20–21
 - defined 4
- Teece, D.J. 55

- textiles, sectoral growth
 - Japan
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 166, 180, 182, 183, 200
 - end of 19th century to World War II 162, 163, 164
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 180, 182, 183, 200
 - end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
- Theory of Development* 136
- Thomas, M.D. 135
- Thomson, A.A. 196–7
- Tisdell, C. 37
- tobacco, sectoral growth
 - Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century 201
 - USA
 - 1960s to end of 20th century 201
 - end of 19th century to World War II 154, 156, 159, 160
- Tomer, J.F. 121, 218, 273
- total factor productivity
 - contribution of OIs 5
 - JIT/QC, quantitative evidence 218–57
 - USA (1899–1937) 153–60
 - USA and Japan (1960–85) 179–84
- total quality control 30, 86, 87, 215
- total quality management 87
- Toyoda, K. 86
- Toyota 26, 85, 86, 101, 125, 134, 139, 188–9, 193, 212; see also lean production system
- trade, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- transaction cost theory
 - business networks 97
 - diversified firms 73
 - economic theory 40–48
 - firm organization 68–9
 - JIT and economic growth 95–6
 - and TFS 79
- transaction efficiency 79
- transistors 194
- transnational corporations, diffusion of OIs 139–41
- transport communication, sectoral growth, USA and Japan 180, 182, 183

- transport equipment, sectoral growth,
USA and Japan 180, 182, 183
- transport, sectoral growth
Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century
204
- USA
1960s to end of 20th century 204
end of 19th century to World War II
155, 156, 159, 160
- trust, business networks 97
- Tsutsui, W.M. 105
- Tugwell, R.G. 157
- Turner, L. 190
- U-form structure
Japanese firms 19
JIT/QC process 87
productivity 115
US firms 23
- Uekusa, M. 27
- underdevelopment, Japan 189
- unproductive time 26
- USA
examples of leading firms 133
firm evolution, comparison with Japan 30–31
firm organization, and economic growth 67–80
gross domestic product 3
growth rates 4
manufacturing sector
end of 19th century to World War II
153–60
1960s to end of 20th century
166–98
JIT/QC, see just-in-time/quality control
- OIs
after World War II 22–5
comparison with Japan
evolution of 30–31
impact of 6
and TIs, non-parallel development 48–50
up to World War II 12–17
- USSR
national economy 146
- technological innovations 48
- utilities, sectoral growth, USA and
Japan 180, 182, 183
- Van de Ven, A.H. 55
- vertical disintegration 25, 196
- vertical integration
Japan 20
USA 13–15, 69–73, 157
- voucher system, of accounts 16
- waste reduction
JIT/QC 87
negentropic nature of PROSIBB
123–4
Taylorist-Fordism system 77–8 see also inventory reduction
- Watanabe, S. 92–3, 214
- Western knowledge, adoption, Japan 20–21
- Wheatley, M.J. 123
- white shirt workers, proliferation of 17
- Williamson, O.E. 52, 68, 72–3, 95
- Willys-Overland 193
- Wilson, J.M. 101
- Winter, S.G. 71
- wisdom costs 114
- Womack, J.P. 115–16
- wood products, sectoral growth
Japan, 1960s to end of 20th century
180, 182, 183, 202
- USA
1960s to end of 20th century 180,
182, 183, 202
end of 19th century to World War II
154, 156, 159, 160
- Wood, S. 50, 101, 103
- work-in-process 26
- work-study 84
- working time, manipulation of, Japan 188
- X-inefficiency theory 57, 78
- Yawata Company 192
- zaibatsus* 18–19