

Contents

List of contributors	viii
1. The International Monetary Convention Project: the search for a new equilibrium in the international monetary system Marc Uzan	1
PART I THE FUTURE EVOLUTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY AND FINANCIAL SYSTEM
2. The IMF and the challenge of relevance in the international financial architecture Martin Parkinson and Adam McKissack	7
3. The future of the international monetary system: how long is the long run? John Murray	30
PART II THE FUTURE SOURCE OF FINANCE FOR THE DEVELOPING WORLD AND THE FUTURE OF THE SOVEREIGN DEBT MARKET
4. Emerging market crises: exchange rate regimes, bond restructurings and the IMF Michael Buchanan	55
5. The future of the sovereign debt market and its implication for the international financial institutions Sergio Edeza	86
6. Sovereign debt restructuring: the future case of Argentina Daniel Marx	90
Comment Allen Frankel	131

PART III THE EVOLVING DEBATE ON CAPITAL ACCOUNT LIBERALIZATION

7. Should capital controls have a place in the future international monetary system? 135
Stephany Griffith-Jones, John Williamson and Ricardo Gottschalk
8. Is democracy incompatible with international economic stability? 168
David Leblang
9. Capital flows and capital controls 199
Harold James
10. Exchange rates and capital controls in developing countries 206
Vijay Joshi

PART IV EXCHANGE RATE REGIME AND FUTURE MONETARY ARRANGEMENTS

11. Exchange rate system for 'mature' economies in a global economy 227
Lord Skidelsky
12. The exchange rate regime and monetary arrangements in South Africa 238
E.J. van der Merwe

PART V THE AFTERMATH OF THE SDRM DEBATE: CACs IN PRACTICE, ACCESS LIMITS AND THE CONCEPT OF A CODE OF GOOD CONDUCT

13. How can the cost of debt crises be reduced? 261
Jeromin Zettelmeyer
14. Who is the cheapest-cost avoider in the sovereign debt market?
Restating the case for the SDRM and greater restraint in IMF lending 271
Curzio Giannini
15. Towards a code for sovereign debt restructuring 294
Pierre Jaillet
- Comments 307
Andrew G. Haldane, Robert Gray and Henk J. Brouwer

PART VI GOVERNANCE OF THE INTERNATIONAL
FINANCIAL SYSTEM: THE IMF, THE G7, G10
AND G20

16. The governance of the international financial system Lorenzo Bini Smaghi	323
17. Governance issues: the IMF, the role of the G7 and some related issues Wouter Raab	339
Index	349