

Figures and tables

FIGURES

5.1	The spatiotemporal ‘specificities’ of Lipietz’s concept of peripheral Fordism	160
5.2	Exportist paths of EANICs	171
6.1	The ‘structured coherence’ between the production and financial orders in the post-Plaza stage, 1985–95	194
6.2	The new ‘domino’ effect during the Asian crisis, 1997–8	200

TABLES

1.1	Seven regulation schools and some distinguishing characteristics	20
1.2	Four foci of regulation approaches, with examples	30
5.1	Comparison between metropolitan Fordism and peripheral Fordism	158
5.2	A comparison between peripheral Fordism and exportism	164
5.3	A stylized model of ‘exportism’ and its temporal–spatial reach	167
5.4	Regime forms under exportism	170
5.5	Temporal–spatial reach of exportism, 1960–present	177
6.1	Capital investment in selected Asian economies	197
6.2	Return on assets for selected Asian economies	197
6.3	Differential impact of the crisis: changes in stock prices and currency	201
6.4	Current account balances (as % of GDP)	202
6.5	Asian foreign debt and reserves (USD bn) end 1997 estimates	203
7.1	Parisian research on institutional forms across the generations	218
8.1	Some modalities of governance	259