Figures

1.1	Median compensation of the CEOs of companies in the USA	8
2.1	Evolution of dividends as a proportion of total profits (before tax) for non-financial companies (excluding farming) in the USA	36
4.1	Equilibrium of the firm	108
4.2	The effect of some parameters on the rate of accumulation and on the stock valuation of the firm	110
6.1	The stock market produces information through information	144
6.2	The stock market causes a shared convention to emerge through the interaction of market participants	145
6.3	The stock market causes the interaction of the interpretations of participants	146
6.4	Multiple equilibria in financial markets	150
6.5	Shape of the price probability distribution under liquidity change	152
6.6	VaR of a portfolio with normal probability distribution	158
6.7	Expected losses and unexpected losses	159
6.8	Distance to default at the end of one year	161
6.9	Risk transfer mechanism via CDS	165
6.10	Interposition of an SPV in the structuring of a CDO	166
6.11	Risk interdependence through protection taker hedging	171
7.1	Probability of default, debt leverage and asset prices	195
7.2	Optimal monetary policy	214
7.3	The future short rate as an option on the expected virtual rate	218
7.4	Yield curve distortion in a neighbourhood of a zero nominal rate	219
7.5	Mortgage loan refinancing	223
8.1	Example of a Raptor hedging operation	231