

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
Abbreviations	x
Contributors	xi
1 Introduction Damian Hine and David Carson	1
2 Teaching and research in small business enterprise marketing: a critique and some alternatives Audrey Gilmore and David Carson	7
3 'If a picture paints a thousand words' – reaching beyond the traditional for alternative insights Andrew McAuley	19
4 Qualitative methodologies for enterprise research Audrey Gilmore and David Carson	33
5 Quantitative methodological considerations Robert G. Schwartz, Nancy J. Birch and Richard D. Teach	54
6 Integrating qualitative and quantitative techniques in entrepreneurship research: an illustration of network analysis Nicole Coviello and Hugh Munro	62
7 Convergent interviewing: a starting methodology for enterprise research programs Sally Rao and Chad Perry	86
8 Case and iCase: facilitating case survey methods for creating research and teaching synergies in innovation and enterprise Lars Bengtsson, Rikard Larsson, Andrew Griffiths and Damian Hine	101
9 Action research for enterprise research Chad Perry and Sally Rao	124
10 Case research about enterprises Robyn Stokes and Chad Perry	137

11	Change in a dynamic climate: a single longitudinal case study in a high technology industry Damian Hine	152
12	Issues in cross-national comparisons applied to building theory on informal innovation in SMEs Asko Miettinen and Damian Hine	170
13	Marketing research for isolated SMEs Mary F. Hazeldine and Morgan P. Miles	203
14	Understanding small business enterprise networking: a qualitative case approach Steve Rocks, David Carson and Audrey Gilmore	214
15	The contextual stepwise approach to enterprise research and the use of undisguised stories and focus groups David A. Kirby	232
16	A re-visit to the contextual stepwise approach for small firm research Wai-sum Siu	247
17	Exploring fast-track entrepreneurial thinking by a novel text-analytic method: Pertex Helge Helmersson and Jan Mattsson	262
18	The application of Leximancer, a relational content analytical tool in enterprise research – description and evaluation on the basis of an Australian-German research project Susanne Royer, Martins Bumbieris, Ellen Kittel-Wegner and Damian Hine	279
19	Innovative methodologies in enterprise research: tackling the question of the role of the state from a macro and micro perspective Rachel Parker	303
20	Conclusion: maintaining the innovative momentum Damian Hine and David Carson	318
	Index	321