

Acknowledgments

A number of people have been very helpful in the process of producing this book and I wish to thank them for their efforts. These have included Douglas Macmillan for his help with the 'Market Stall' technique; Ian Bateman, Roy Brouwer, Guy Garrod, Nick Hanley, Paul McMahon, William Wadsworth and Ken Willis from whom I have learnt a great deal whilst co-working on mixed method valuation studies; Ricardo Scarpa for his encouragement; and Jan Wright for her invaluable help reading through the text and making a number of useful suggestions. Special thanks also go to Lena Sünnerberg and Gilla Sünnerberg.
