Index

Akerlof, George T. 2
Arrow, Kenneth J. 182
asymmetric information 133 avtonomous money demand 72–3, 79, 82, 84, 177 impact on price level 72 Bailey, Martin 222
bank money 42–3, 72
Baumol, William J. 11
benchmark interest rate 88, 95, 97, 102, 194
Blinder, A. 4, 7
Boianovsky, Mauras 85
bonds
- demand for 128, 147, 229–31
- ‘price’ of 127
- supply of 129, 197, 227, 230–31
Bretton-Woods Agreement 152
Burke, Edmund 245
central banks 3, 103, 109, 153, 196–7, 200 coefficient of reaction 88, 108–9, 189 coingage 32
convenience costs of supply of inside money 36 compenations of inflation 239–42 cost of inflation risk 231 quantifications of 238–9 credibility costs of supply of inside money 36, 44–5, 48, 183, 219, 221 debt
- determinants of quantity of 132
- social function of 113–15, 123, 133–6
- demand price of credit 84, 89, 89–90, 94–6, 185–217, 252
- under risk 186 efficient consumption, 119–20, 133, 136, 140, 142, 155, 231, 236–7, 239, 245 efficient markets hypothesis 178, 180, 184 elasticity of money demand
- to consumption 33
- to nominal rate of return on capital 27, 28
- and optimal rate of inflation 211–13, 223 edogenous money supply 3, 35, 42–3, 47, 64–5, 81–2, 86, 87, 104–5, 220 exchange rates
- falling 196
- pegged 108, 152, 200
expectations
- and heterogeneous information 178–82
Federal Reserve of the United States 4
Fiscal Theory of the Price Level 4, 6
Fisher Condition 89–91, 94, 106–7, 187
Forster, E.M. 137
Friedman, M. 208, 214
Fujiki, Hiroshi 223
Gibson’s Paradox 101 government debt 134, 152–3, 156 Great Depression 183, 243 Great Inflation 3, 196–7 hedgers 122, 124–6, 137, 229
Hicks, J.R. 33, 35, 52
Hicks neutral technical change 125, 132, 134, 232 Hume, David 156
implicit yield on money 1–3, 33, 161, 204
Index

inflation
  and banking 95
  private benefits of 218–19, 221–2 social benefits of 239–42 inflation rate and money demand 27–9, 32 optimal rate of 213–14, 217 Quantity Theory determinants of 76–7, 171–4, 188 seasonal pattern 84
  and semi-elasticity of money demand 50–51 Wicksellian determinants of 99–100, 188–91, 196–8 inflation risk
  social cost of 231, 235–41 inflation risk premium 146, 155, 162, 252 and the bond market 227–32 and the demand for money 163 and the demand price of credit 186
  and the liquidity trap 167
  and price level determination 87 and shoe leather costs 207, 215–16 and the supply of inside money 165 inflation target
  see reference inflation rate inside money autonomous supply of 71–2, 95 elasticity of supply of to total money demand 44 elasticity of supply to return on capital 44 impact of supply of on prices 71–2 infinite elasticity of supply of 81 interest upon 47
  semi-elasticity of supply of 50 social cost of supply of 40, 217–19, 221–2
  supply of 41–2, 164–5
interest rate 89
  determination of 101
  and inflation 247
  and relation to price level 100–102, 192–5 stability 77, 195–6
  zero bound 91, 106
interest rate reaction function 87–8, 92–3, 186, 200 international capital mobility 241–2 Kaldor, N. 36, 46, 82
Keynes, J.M. 137, 245
Knell, Markus 207, 209

lags
  in the impact of the money supply 174–7 in impact of reference price level 191–2 ‘long and variable’ 176 liquidation costs 12–18, 19, 21, 25, 32–3, 59, 62, 204, 218 liquidity trap 77–81, 85, 108, 167–8, 251
LM curve 4
Lucas, R. 4
M3 4
marginal benefit of money 13–14, 16, 33 and direct costs of money holding 15 marginal utility of money 17–18, 52, 62, 165
Marty, Alvin L. 211
Monetarism 3, 46, 103
  see also Quantity Theory of Money monetary equilibrium existence 63–5, 166
  uniqueness 57–62
monetary policy 76–7, 102–3
  see also Price Stabilisation; Central Banks money debt determinants of size of 152, 230 money bonds demand for in the absence of real bonds 22–9 ‘price’ of 147, 148
  social function of 138, 140–48
  supply of in the absence of real bonds 227–9 money demand aggregate 30
  coefficient of 27, 75, 84–5, 205, 213–14, 223–4 elasticity 27–8, 33, 75, 211–13 empirical studies 223 functional forms 25
  minimum level of 24–6 semi-elasticity of 27–8, 75, 68, 80, 161, 164, 169, 211, 223 sensitivity of 27 theory of under risk 160–64 money neutrality 33
see also non-neutrality of money money supply permanent shocks to 70–71, 106, 157, 172–3, 175 permanent measures of 74–6, 171 money wage rates 85
Mulligan, Casey B. 223 natural rate of interest see profit rate nominal rate of return on capital defined 22, 33
see also profit rate non-neutrality of money 176, 242–4 non-neutrality of price level 46
Obstfield, Maurice 235
O’Connell, Sean 52
operational costs of supply of inside money 36 ‘Optimal Quantity of Money’ and costs of inflation risk 236–7 outside money residual demand for 49–50 semi-elasticity of demand for 50
Pareto’s False Principle of DiminishingMarginal Substitution 18, 28, 33 Patinkin, Don 11, 34
permanent magnitudes 75–6, 99, 101, 171 permanent rate of growth of outside money 75–6 permanent rate of profit 75–6, 99 permanent reference price level 98–9, 190
Phelps, E.S. 214
Phillips Curve 4
Pope, Jeff 223
price level
determination of 86–7, 95
elasticity to inside money supply 72 elasticity to outside money supply 67–9, 81, 85 elasticity to reference price level 95 semi-elasticity to benchmark rate of interest 97 semi-elasticity to profit rate 73, 96 profit rate
determination of 36, 114
and inflation 99–100, 189
and price stability 102 profit risk premium 127, 162, 165, 252
and price level determination 187
Quantity Theory
and the classical dichotomy 30, 33 comparative statics 66–73, 166–70
defined 3
foundations of under risk 160–66 and the infinitely elastic supply of inside money 82
and the liquidity trap 79–80
mathematical expectations versions of 170–72 price level determinacy 57–61 and Wicksellianism 103–6 Ramsey-Solow model 30–32 real balance effects 24, 138, 141, 156, 157 real interest rate 133 and inflation risk 230, 234–5 and money shocks 176 reference inflation rate 99–101 reference price level 87, 95–6
and inflation 190
and the interest rate 193 and the price level 193 Residual demand for outside money see outside money risk and debt 113–15, 122–3
trade of 241
risk evening 113, 133
risk premium see inflation risk premium Samuelson, P.A. 11
seigniorage 208
optimal quantity of 212–13
social cost of 209–11, 220, 223, 226 semi-elasticity of money demand
to nominal rate of return on capital 27, 28, 84
to rate of interest 161 Shann, E.O.G. 52
shoe leather cost of inflation 204–5 and inside money 214
as a rationale for price stability 207 and sensitivity of money demand 206–7 speculators 122, 124–6 supply price of credit 86, 88, 90, 94–7, 185–7 taxation compliance costs 223
technological change 115–16, 125–6, 140, 154, 225, 252

see also Hicks neutral technical change unemployment 4, 80, 85

Wicksell, K. 102, 108
Wicksellian theory of prices
comparative-statics 95–9
equilibrium 94
existence of equilibrium 92–3
inflation 99–100
parallelism with Quantity Theory 103–6 and zero interest bound 106 Woodford, Michael 4