

Contents

List of contributors	vi
Introduction	xi
1. The place of science in society: progress, pragmatism, pluralism Anne Mayhew	1
2. Thorstein Veblen on the origins and meaning of private property Robert E. Prasch	17
3. Capital and the modern corporation Eric R. Hake	31
4. Pecuniary institutions: their role and effects Glen Atkinson	69
5. Veblen's missing theory of markets and exchange, or can you have an economic theory without a theory of market exchange? William T. Waller	87
6. Some myths of Veblenian institutionalism Geoffrey M. Hodgson	127
7. Veblen: economics raised to the cultural level David Hamilton	148
8. Veblen on higher education Anne Mayhew	155
9. Thorstein Veblen and the sabotage of democracy Sidney Plotkin	170
10. Getting to the good life: agents of change Janet T. Knoedler	202
Index	229