

Contents

---

Abbreviations used for law reports and periodicals	xi
Table of cases	xvi
Table of legislation	xxix
Preface	xxxv
1 Introduction	1
1 Aim of the text	1
2 Company law in society	3
3 Corporate law history	4
4 Corporate law ‘families’	7
4.1 Systems based on English law	7
4.2 US-inspired models	9
4.3 Civil/continental law jurisdictions	10
4.4 Other families	10
5 Unitary and federal models	11
6 The picture in the UK and British Isles	12
7 Harmonisation of corporate law	15
7.1 The EEC programme	15
7.2 Other harmonisation schemes	19
8 Legislative measures	20
9 Convergence and the courts	21
10 Legal and other commercial transplants	24
11 The Company Law Review 1998–2001	26
12 The Companies Act 2006	27
13 Does corporate law matter?	28
2 Comparing core regulatory strategies	30
1 Regulating companies: justification	30
2 How to regulate?	34
2.1 Regulation by legislation	34
2.2 Delegated legislation	37
2.3 Self-regulatory codes, professional rules and bureaucratic processes	37
2.4 A residual role for the courts?	40
3 Regulatory tools, bureaucratic efficiency and sanctions	42

4	Critical regulatory goals	45
4.1	Effective and customer-driven incorporation processes	45
4.2	Protecting creditors from abuse of limited liability	46
4.3	Limiting unauthorised trading	50
4.4	Curbing misuse of managerial powers	51
4.5	Protecting shareholders	52
4.6	Effective termination procedures	54
4.7	Rehabilitation	54
4.8	Developing a user-friendly regime	56
4.9	Adapting to new technologies	57
4.10	Maintaining effective and reputed capital markets	58
5	Common problems/familiar responses	59
3	Commonality of fundamental principles	60
1	Introduction	60
2	The company as a separate entity	60
3	Limited liability	66
4	Legal recognition for shares: protection for shareholders	67
5	Regulating directors as managers	70
6	Providing for equality of creditors	71
7	Providing for differential treatment for public/private companies	73
8	Establishing effective procedures for the incorporation/dissolution of companies	74
9	Ensuring that companies remain subject to state control	75
10	Maintaining confidence in capital markets	76
11	Enabling companies to grow and restructure	77
4	Foreign shareholders and non-resident controllers	78
1	Exploitation of UK Company Law by foreign entrants	78
2	The overseas shareholder	78
2.1	Statistical significance	78
2.2	Judicial support for foreign shareholders	80
2.3	Problems in EU law	83
2.4	Equal treatment; not better treatment	84
3	Controlling foreign participation in strategic companies	86
4	Foreign (or non-resident) directors	88
5	The corporate director phenomenon	91
5	Reception of overseas companies by the English legal system	93
1	The inclusive tradition	93
2	Definition	95

3	Non-resident companies: a note	96
4	Foreign enterprise activity in England and Wales: strategic options	96
4.1	‘Going native’	96
4.2	Formal admission as an overseas company	96
4.3	Flouting the law	99
4.4	Redomestication	99
5	Applicability of general provisions in the Companies Acts	100
6	Foreign companies and listing rules	104
7	Foreign companies in litigation	104
7.1	Foreign company as claimant	104
7.2	Service of proceedings on foreign companies	105
8	Obligation to register company charges: problems with overseas aspects	107
6	Cooperation with foreign courts and overseas regulators	110
1	Extraterritoriality	110
2	Judicial comity	112
3	Protocols	116
4	Regulatory authorities working together	117
5	Recognition of foreign disqualifications	118
7	Corporate law and conflict of laws	120
1	Essential propositions	120
2	Place of incorporation v real seat	120
3	Governing law of corporations	124
4	Choice of law and corporate disputes	127
5	Application of the Takeover Code	129
8	Dealing with transnational corporate collapse	130
1	Common law solutions	131
1.1	Principles	131
1.2	Attitudes – common law assistance	133
1.3	Common law remedies of potential use in transnational insolvency	135
2	Legislative responses	136
3	Multilateral approaches	138
3.1	EC level	138
3.2	International level	143

9	The future of national corporate law systems	145
1	Convergence	145
2	Factors promoting further convergence	146
2.1	Capitalism and consensus	146
2.2	Globalisation	147
2.3	Legal scholars as agents of convergence	147
2.4	Law reform processes	149
2.5	International law firms and accountancy practices	150
2.6	Higher education	150
2.7	Role of international organisations	151
2.8	Multinationals and international joint ventures	151
2.9	Race to the bottom	152
2.10	Harmonisation processes	152
2.11	Converging capital markets	152
2.12	Foreign players	153
2.13	New technology	153
2.14	The common law	154
2.15	The role of language and corporate discourse	154
2.16	Convergence through paralysis	155
3	Other likely trends in UK corporate law	156
3.1	Corporate mobility	156
3.2	Supranational companies	157
3.3	A twin track system	157
4	Overview	157
	Appendix	162
	Bibliography	165
	Index	195