

Preface

This volume is one of a series arising from the conferences organized by the Cournot Centre for Economic Studies, Paris. These conferences explore contemporary issues, with particular focus on Europe. Speakers, along with other participants and members of the audience, are drawn from backgrounds in academia, business, finance, labour unions, the media and national or multinational governmental and non-governmental agencies.

The specific texts presented here are the fruits of the sixth conference of the Cournot Centre for Economic Studies held on 2–3 October 2003. The title of the conference was ‘Public Sector, Private Sector: New National and International Frontiers’.
