

Figures

1.1	The relationship between leadership, effective performance, and value creation	6
1.2	Core dimensions of the Competing Values Framework	7
1.3	Secondary dimensions of the Competing Values Framework – approaches to change	13
1.4	Secondary dimensions of the Competing Values Framework – levels of analysis	15
1.5	Core and secondary dimensions of the Competing Values Framework	17
3.1	The Competing Values Framework – culture, leadership, value drivers, and effectiveness	32
3.2	Emphases of the four quadrants in the Competing Values Framework	40
3.3	A map of the production function	41
3.4	A map of the new product development function	42
3.5	A map of the sales and marketing function	43
3.6	A map of the human resources function	44
3.7	The Compete versus Collaborate quadrants	45
3.8	The Create versus Control quadrants	46
3.9	Change in emphasis in competing values quadrants over organization life cycles	48
4.1	The Boy Scout Law mapped on the Competing Values Framework	57
4.2	A common entrepreneurial company life cycle	61
5.1	Two competing activities (the Collaborate and Compete quadrants)	66
5.2	Two competing activities (anchored by extreme forms of leadership behaviors)	67
5.3	Integrating competing activities	68
5.4	Autonomous engagement – the integration of Collaborate and Compete leadership behaviors	70
5.5	Practical vision – the integration of Control and Create leadership behaviors	73
5.6	Teachable confidence – the integration of Control and Create leadership behaviors	77

5.7	Caring confrontation – the integration of Collaborate and Compete leadership behaviors	81
5.8	New leadership behaviors for creating value	83
6.1	An example of a concave function	89
6.2	An example of a convex function	90
6.3	Stock market performance versus competing values performance	107
6.4	Sears performance on competing values dimensions relative to industry average for the year 2000	108
6.5	Hewlett-Packard performance on competing values dimensions relative to industry average for the year 2000	109
7.1	An example of one leader's competency profile	119
7.2	An example of six organizational cultural profiles	121
7.3	An example of an organization's current culture and preferred future culture	123
7.4	Examples of performance outcomes in each quadrant	130
7.5	Core elements in organizational change	132
8.1	Prescriptions for enhancing value through empowerment	137
8.2	Steps in process assessment	143
8.3	Steps in process analysis	144
8.4	Steps in process redesign	144
8.5	Rules for fostering innovation	147
8.6	Steps for creating sustained economic value	155
9.1	Negative zones associated with the Competing Values Framework	157