

Figures

1.1	Evolution of alliance portfolios in the US software industry	3
1.2	Starbuck's coffee creating value through a set of relationships	4
1.3	Accenture creating value through a set of relationships	5
1.4	Three attributes of contracting	12
1.5	Antecedents–governance–performance framework	20
1.6	Integrative research framework on the role of contracts and trust	21
1.7	The organization of economic activity	29
1.8	Purpose of alliances worldwide	38
1.9	Joint ventures versus alliances	39
1.10	Distribution of contract length in words for different kinds of agreements	41
3.1	Research framework: focus of theme one	65
3.2	Antecedents of the need and the ability to contract	69
4.1	Research framework: focus of theme two	87
4.2	Evolution of trust, distrust and contracting in interorganizational relationships	89
4.3	Trust, distrust and interorganizational performance	92
4.4	Formal contracts and interorganizational performance	92
5.1	Research framework: focus of theme three	106
5.2	Relationships between contracting, sensemaking and understanding	112
5.3	Ring and Van de Ven's process framework	121
6.1	Research framework: focus of theme four	151
6.2	A dialectic perspective on formalization in interorganizational relationships	153
6.3	Interorganizational structure of the QUICK–STEADY alliance	163
6.4	Three ways of coping with tensions arising from formalization	172
7.1	Research framework: focus of theme five	181
7.2	Generic research model extended with standardization	181
7.3	Moderating effects of standardization	197
8.1	Research framework: focus of theme six	206

8.2	Governance trajectories	210
8.3	Prior cooperation	218
8.4	Advance payment	218
8.5	Standard contract	218
8.6	Relationships between governance decisions and sets of antecedents	226
9.1	Research framework: overview contributions of the six themes	233
9.2	A simple bargaining game	246
9.3	Major opportunities for cross-disciplinary research	255
9.4	Research opportunities regarding pre- and post-contracting processes	256
9.5	Future research on governance: creating, appropriating and discovering value	259