Acknowledgements

I am grateful to the Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC)’s Gender Equality Network programme (coordinated by Professor Jackie Scott), which provided the financial support for Mary Campbell who worked as the Research Officer on the project. She co-authored four articles from the project and also provided assistance in drawing up most of the tables.

The work also owes much to the support I have received from continental European colleagues over the years, which has benefited from EU-level financial support, most recently under the Civil Society and New Forms of Governance in Europe Network (CINEFOGO), coordinated by Professor Thomas Boje, Social Quality and the Changing Relationship between Work, Care and Welfare in Europe Coordinated Action (WORKCARE), coordinated by Professor Claire Wallace and Reconciling Work and Welfare in Europe Network (RECWOWE), coordinated by Professor Denis Bouget and Dr Bruno Palier programmes, which allowed the co-writing of Chapter 4. Discussions over the years with Professors Jeanne Fagnani, Barbara Hobson, Trudie Knijn, Ute Klammer, Arnlaug Leira, Marie-Thérèse Letablier, Claude Martin, Ann Orloff, Ilona Ostner, Janneke Plantenga and Chiara Saraceno on a wide range of topics touching on the subject of this book have been enormously important.

I am particularly grateful to Trudie Knijn of the University of Utrecht, Claude Martin of CNRS Rennes, and Ilona Ostner of the University of Göttingen for their collaboration in the writing of Chapter 4.

I am also grateful to Dr Carmen Huerta, now Economist/Analyst at the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), and to Ludovica Gambaro for their help in manipulating the European Social Survey and Labour Force Survey data sets.

Finally, this book has been written since my return to the London School of Economics (LSE), where I am very appreciative of the support and intellectual stimulation I have received from colleagues, especially Howard Glennerster, David Piachaud and Anne West.
