About the authors

Hung-Gay Fung is Department Chair (Finance and Legal Studies) and Dr Y.S. Tsang Chair Professor at the College of Business Administration and Center for International Studies, University of Missouri–St Louis. Fung’s research covers a wide range of international finance, international banking, and Chinese financial markets. He has published over 100 scholarly papers, including those in leading academic and professional journals. He has also published six books. He is a recipient of many grants and academic awards. As a senior expert of Chinese finance studies and international finance, Fung has organized many international conferences and symposiums. He received his PhD in finance from Georgia State University in 1984 and BBA in finance from the Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1978.

Sheryl A. Law is the Founder of Peregreen Group, a research and analytics firm specializing in socially responsible investing. She has worked in environmental research at universities and government institutions, and spent many years as an environmental science consultant. Law has published several papers in scientific journals and written chapters for books. She received an MS in environmental chemistry from the University of Toronto and an MBA from Seattle University.

Jot Yau is Robert D. O’Brien Endowed Chair of Business Administration and Professor of Finance at Seattle University. Since joining Seattle University in 2001, he has served as the Chair of the Department of Economics and Finance, Department of Finance, and MSF program director. Yau has published numerous scholarly papers in finance journals and chapters in professional books. He is a co-editor of Advances in International Investments: Traditional and Alternative Approaches (World Scientific, 2008). He is Special Editor (Risk Management) of The Journal of Alternative Investments. He has served on the curriculum and exam committees for the CFA Institute and the CAIA Association. He has co-founded Strategic Options Investment Advisors Ltd, a Hong Kong-based investment advisory firm. He has also served as treasurer of the Northwest Hedge Fund Society and on the Board of Directors of Group Health Credit Union in Seattle. He holds a PhD in finance from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, and is a CFA charterholder.